WARNING TO SOVIETS

5-Year Defense Plans Outlined To U.S. Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, speaking of future weapons such as missile-firing satellites, outlined for Congress Friday a five-year plan designed to preserve U. S. ability to cope with Soviet military progress.

He expressed confidence that this nation's retaliatory forces now "are fully capable of destroying" assigned Soviet targets even after a nuclear surprise attack.

And as for the future, he said: "We believe that the strategic retaliatory forces programmed for the next few years are fully adequate to the task of deterring war through their ability to destroy the attacker, even after absorbing the first strike."

REPORT CENSORED

McNamara emphasized the conclusions in a 122-page statement he presented to the Senate Armed Services Committee behind closed doors. A censored version was made public.

Here is the defense picture painted by McNamara for the present and future years:

The United States now has about 50 intercontinental ballistic missiles. By the end of 1964 it will have about 1,000 — 126 Atlas, 54 Titan I, 54 Titan II and 300 Minutemen. By the end of the next fiscal year, it will have 14 B-52 bombers, or 600 planes. Each B-52 can carry nuclear-tipped Skybolt missiles which can be launched 950 miles from the target. The Air Force also will have two wings of supersonic B-58 bombers and hundreds of medium-range B-47s. Construction of missile-firing Polaris submarines will be stepped up.

RESERVES

McNamara recommended that 30,000 paid civilian Army reservists and National Guardsmen be cut from the current 700,000. The

Rumors Fly On Freeing Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro was rumored Friday as planning to release 1,100 invasion prisoners in a move to forestall sanctions against the Cuban Communist regime by hemisphere nations.

There is no confirmation for the report in any quarters here but Cuban exile sources and Latin-American diplomats say they have begun to attach credence to the reports because they have been so persistent and also because they apparently originated in underground messages from Havana to Miami.

These sources add that release of the Cuban exiles captured in the April 17 attempt to invade Cuba and overthrow the Castro regime doubtless would be presented by Castro as a demonstration that he is responsive to humanitarian appeals even in the case of those who oppose him.

Any announcement of the release presumably would precede the hemisphere foreign ministers' meeting which begins Monday at Punta del Este, Uruguay. Collective action against the Castro regime will be weighed at these sessions.

Actually, Latin Americans say, Castro has little choice but to release the prisoners, sooner or later. They say there has been revulsion throughout the world at the wholesale killings of anti-Castro Cubans by firing squads. And they add, appeals from throughout Latin America to spare the Cuban prisoners make it difficult for Castro's government to do anything other than release the men and deport them to the United States.

Four Children Burn To Death

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (UPI) — Four children burned to death Friday in their home in the second major fire tragedy this week in Arkansas.

The victims were the children of Mrs. Lucy Broom. They were Carolyn and Carroll Broom, 3-year-old twins; Lillian Broom, 5, and Bonnie Broom, 2.

Mrs. Broom and 10 other children fled before their burning, four-room frame home south of Pine Bluff, collapsed. A fifth child, Harvey, 7, was critically burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Paladino and their eight children were burned to death Monday when fire destroyed their home in Catholic Point community.

Byrd Asserts JFK Budget Deficit Due

Senate Chairman Says Estimates Are Unrealistic

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., predicted Friday that President Kennedy's fiscal 1963 budget would produce a $1 to $5 billion deficit instead of the $500 million surplus foreseen by the President.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, joined Republicans in criticizing Kennedy's record peacetime $92.5 billion budget for the 12 months starting July 1. Most other Democrats called it a sound fiscal document.

ESTIMATES LOW

Byrd said the President's spending estimates were too low and its tax collection estimates too high. To get the $93 billion in receipts predicted by Kennedy, he said, there would have to be no strikes and income levels that could be inflationary.

"This is no time for double-talk with respect to the state of our fiscal affairs," Byrd said in a statement. "They are in serious shape. We need the facts in a simple and straightforward statement."

The Virginia Democrat announced earlier that his committee would undertake a major fiscal inquiry, using as a springboard the President's request for a $10 billion increase in the national debt ceiling.

Byrd said the President's "paper thin" surplus could be reached only by congressional action which was doubtful at best. He referred specifically to Kennedy's proposals for postal rate increases, cuts in farm price supports and a reduction in aid to schools crowded by children whose parents live or work at nearby federal installations.

Pointing to spending increases in the budget, Byrd said the Department of Health, Education

Drive Set For Speech By Walker

A telegram campaign is being launched by the local "Friends of General Walker Committee" asking Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker to speak in Monroe in April. The former U.S. Army commander in Germany, who resigned from the service after attempts were made to muzzle his anti-communist statements, has appeared at rallies in Jackson, Miss., Dallas, Tex., and in California.

The Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce suggested Walker's appearance here at their board of directors meeting Thursday night as part of the Americanism program.

James H. Rivers, Jaycee president, said that the telegram campaign was launched yesterday so that Walker would know that the people of the area want to hear him speak.

A suggested telegram is: "We have joined the Friends of General Walker Committee and urge you to come to Monroe to speak at earliest possible date."

The address is: Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, 4011 Turtle Creek Dr., Dallas, Tex.

Rivers said he had been in contact with Walker's secretary, and that the earliest possible time for him to appear here

Laos Princes Take Stride On Coalition

Final Agreement Still Depends On Supporters' Okay

GENEVA (UPI) — The three feuding princes of Laos announced Friday on a coalition government aimed at ending the civil war in Laos. The agreement came after U. S. - backed Prince Boun Oum retreated from his previous tough stand.

Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier-designate in the new government, said the agreement with Boun Oum and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels of Prince Souphanouvong "will provide a firm basis for future peace."

RESERVATIONS

But he admitted that Boun Oum had expressed "reservations" on the composition of the cabinet and would consult his royal Lao-Lao government colleagues before giving final acceptance.

Western officials were cautiously optimistic. One source pointed out that the agreement still could collapse if Boun Oum renewed his demand for the key posts of the defense and interior ministries.

The three princes, who met here at the behest of the 14-nation conference on Laos, agreed to allot four cabinet seats to the Boun Oum faction, four to the rebels, and the remaining eight to Souvanna's neutralists, including the premiership and the defense and interior posts.

Souvanna said Boun Oum had requested the defense and interior ministries once again in Friday afternoon's two and one-half hour meeting, "although Prince Souphanouvong and I were in accord that these two, together with the ministry of foreign affairs, should go to the neutralist party."

Souvanna said Boun Oum finally agreed that if it were impossible for his men to occupy the defense and interior posts, he would pick two ministries from among the foreign affairs, information, and finance portfolios. Souphanouvong also asked for information and finance, Souvanna said.

U.S. Reports Influenza Rise Across Nation

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Widespread outbreaks of influenza extending from Florida and Georgia across the continent to the West Coast were reported Friday by the U.S. Public Health Service.

The Communicable Disease Center here described the general outbreaks as of an acute febrile respiratory nature but said many have been shown to be influenza B.

Two new states were included in the cross-continent arc of incidence—Kansas and Kentucky. Additional outbreaks were listed from Arizona, Colorado, Iowa, Missouri, Tennessee, Georgia and Florida.

A few small outbreaks were noted from contiguous parts of New York and Massachusetts. They began immediately after the Christmas holidays and mostly involve school children.

This is the kind of weather where if a person carries an umbrella one day, there is no rain, but if the person ventures out without the umbrella the next day, he can depend on rain.

The local area is getting a break today, for although there are low temperatures and cloudy skies forecast, no rain is expected.

The high (?) temperature is expected to reach 35 and the low is expected to fall to 26 degrees. There is a chance of rain Sunday.

Yesterday proved to be about average luck with cloudy skies and just enough rain to be bothersome, .03 inches.

10th Daughter Born, Father Not Surprised

FAIR HAVEN, Mich. (AP) — When Millard Hurlbert became the father of an 8-pound, 6-ounce daughter this week, he said, "I'm not surprised."

It was an old story for Hurlbert and his wife, Rosalie, 39. The new arrival, Shana, will join the Fair Haven couple's nine other daughters. There are no sons.

"I've given up hope of having a son," said Hurlbert, 42, general manager of a Marine City, Mich., tool and die company.

But he professes that, "Girls are awfully nice, and there's not the problems large families would face with 10 children of mixed gender."

The family lives in a two-story house that has five bedrooms. Although there is only one bathroom, problems are avoided by a staggered schedule in the morning, explains a daughter, Michele, 16.

The other girls are Sylvia, 19; Ray Marie, 14; Yvonne, 13; Cynthia, 11; Charmaine, 7; Cheryl, 5, and Deanna, 3.

ZERO GRAVITY

Strange Sensation Awaits Astronaut

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. is heading into a rare and unearthly sensation — prolonged weightlessness.

It made Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov kind of seasick. And it might prove to be a hurdle or even barrier to long human space journeys.

Thus doctors will follow with keen interest what, if anything, Glenn feels from weightlessness during his journey scheduled next Wednesday.

Weightlessness means just that — no feeling of weight or pull of gravity as a man and his spacecraft literally fall through space. Glenn, making a scheduled three orbits of the earth, would be weightless about 4½ hours, or 54 times longer than the five-minute weightless periods of astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr., and Virgil I. Grissom in their short space hops.

Gone will be the familiar feeling of gravity, which keeps us bound to earth, tells you that you have weight when you stand or sit, and brings you tumbling down when you slip.

Out in the void of space, Glenn will experience zero gravity. His spaceship, travelling 17,500 miles per hour, will literally be falling around the center of the earth. Gravity will be tugging at his ship, and also on Glenn, but their speed will offset that so they remain in a free fall or orbit around the earth.

Inside, Glenn will feel no weight. If not strapped down, sudden movements could propel him against the ceiling or sides of his ship.

Water would float out of a glass. To eat and drink, he must use plastic squeeze tubes placed into his mouth.

On earth, people can get only

Special Meet Is Slated On PAR Survey

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The State Board of Education record budget of more than $208 million for Louisiana public schools Friday. The budget proposal, reflecting an increase of some $14 million over current spending, will be submitted to the division of administration, which is preparing an overall budget for presentation to the May legislature.

NO OPPOSITION

The education board action was taken without comment or opposition in open session. Members of the board held two informal secret meetings during a morning of committee sessions.

In other action, the education board set a Feb. 23 special meeting to hear argument for and against a proposed Public Affairs Research Council (PAR) study of excellence in high schools.

Board President William Dodd, Baton Rouge, said he would announce the place and the time for the hearing later.

Nash Roberts, New Orleans member, brought up the matter at the end of the regular session. Roberts said he favored the PAR survey, and thought the board should devote a special meeting to discussion of it.

Dodd said he felt Friday's agenda was too crowded to take up the matter and "we should have it at a time when nothing else is taken up but that."

The proposed $250,000 survey of high school education by the independent research organization drew opposition from some school boards and superintendents. PAR

Pair Walks 100 Miles For Record

NAHA, Okianwa (AP) — Two U.S. Marine corporals claimed a world record Friday for a 100-mile walk.

The two, Peter P. Zych, 20, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Henry W. Hartmann, 21, Tacoma, Wash., crossed the finish line after a 24-hour, 58-minute performance that Marine Corps spokesmen said bettered the record held by two Englishmen. The Britons set their mark last November, the spokesmen said.

Four Marine corporals started out Thursday morning but two failed to finish.

Dale L. Lietz, 20, Plymouth, Ind., dropped out late Thursday night with severe stomach cramps. Charles D. Keith, 19, Montague, Mich., was stopped Friday morning by painful foot blisters.

All four are members of the 3rd Marine Division stationed here. They started their walk from Nago, in northern Okinawa, in strong winds and rain. The hike stretched to Naha Air Force Base 50 miles to the south and back to Nago.

A military vehicle traveled with them carrying sandwiches, orange juice, honey and cocoa.

During the last mile the entire K Company, 3rd Battalion, 3rd Marines, accompanied the two successful walkers to the finish line, where they were met by Maj. Gen. Robert E. Cushman of St. Paul, Minn.

Also along for the last mile was the division drum and bugle corps, blaring "The Marine Corps Hymn."

number of paid Air Force reservists would be increased by 1,000 to 61,000. Authorizations for drill-paid Navy and Marines reserves would remain unchanged at 125,000 and 45,500 respectively.

U. S. DEFENSE

No matter how much money is spent, "we simply cannot in this day and age provide an absolute defense for the continental United States." But to do the best job possible, the administration wants to spend $2.1 billion for defense against any attacking bombers or missiles. This includes funds for continued research on the Nike-Zeus, but no production money for the anti-missile missile. In this connection, McNamara warned that Russia "probably already has some missile - firing submarines, a few of which may be nuclear powered."

CIVIL DEFENSE

By next July, civil defense officials will have completed the first phase of a survey identifying about 50 million shelter spaces in existing buildings, tunnels, subways and the like. But it will take several more years to stock them - and about 220 million are needed. The record $695 million budgeted for civil defense includes funds for an advanced civilian warning system.

WEAPONS

The budget calls for modernization of weapons ranging from the foot soldier's rifle to tanks, ships and planes. For example, eight old small arms will be replaced with a family of three Nato-standard 7.62 mm. weapons. They are the new M-14 rifle and the M-60 and M-73 machine guns.

MANNED BOMBERS

McNamara opposed buying any more manned bombers even though Congress voted funds for them last year. He said the Defense Department also has decided that the B70 super bomber should not be developed as a full weapons system. Consideration is being given to recasting it as a reconnaissance plane and mop-up bomber.

COLD WAR

McNamara said the rapid buildup of U. S. conventional forces "has done much to stabilize the crises may occur frequently in the years ahead." After citing Berlin, Viet Nam, Laos and Cuba, McNamara said "serious instability" elsewhere may give the Communists opportunities to "enlarge the area of struggle."

AMERICA'S AIMS

"We are resolved to continue the struggle in all its forms until such a time as the Communist leaders, both Soviet and Chinese, are convinced that their aggressive policies, motivated by their drive to communize the world, endanger their security as well as ours."

McNamara testified before the committee behind closed doors. A condensed version of his statement was made public after security deletions.

and Welfare would boost its spending by $714 million, an increase exceeded only by military and space programs.

He said there were at least 60 programs for federal aid to states and local governments involving $9.9 billion, an increase of $2.6 billion or 36 per cent over last year's total, and $1.2 billion over the current year.

Byrd noted that there was a $3.9 billion deficit last year and that the deficit this year will be about twice as high. He said there have been 26 deficits in the past 31 years and "there will be another deficit next year."

momentary feelings of weightlessness, as at the top of a dive into a pool, or as a roller coaster starts down hill.

Weightlessness can be duplicated for a minute or so in an airplane flying up and down in a parabolic arc. Some fliers like the sensation, some find it unpleasant.

The crucial medical question is what happens to human beings during long periods of weightlessness, for days or weeks or months if not just for hours. And what happens after weightlessness when a spacecraft is suddenly braked down re-entering the atmosphere, and the suddenly restored gravity is many times its normal force on earth.

Glenn's trip will add some knowledge concerning this peculiar phenomenon.

asked that the education board hear the proposal.

Roberts also told the education board he expected some test cases in court to determine whether pupils from schools ordered to desegregate could attend some non-profit New Orleans private schools under Louisiana's grants-in-aid.

The Orleans board members asked whether there was a possibility the education board would be hit with a deluge of requests for grants.

State Supt. Shelby M. Jackson, who serves as board secretary, said the law requires that all such claims be cleared through the local school authorities.

"They can't pass the buck to us," Jackson said. "They have to notarize the applications."

Jackson added the law requires also that the schools attended by pupils under grants be nonsectarian, nonpartisan and non-profit.

Roberts replied quickly that many Orleans private schools also operate on a non-profit basis and have no church or other affiliation. He said he believed the be a lot more than previously expected.

The public school budget each year sets a new record because of thousands of new children entering schools. The education board in earlier sessions approved $39 million in budget estimates for colleges, trade and special schools.

The education budget, like those of all other state departments, will be screened by administration fiscal officers.

Here are some of the major items in the public school budget estimates: school lunches $13,594,043; up $1,656,613; per educable distribution to the parish school boards according to the number of school age children $54,313,875; up $1,494,625; state teachers' salary fund $80,316,451; up $3,206,718; and school equalization funds $18,104,625; up $498,209.

At one of the closed-door sessions, the board called in white state college presidents. It was learned later the conference touched on student probation and suspension.

In open session, the board voted to approve a resolution making a change in probation policy at suggestion of the college presidents' council.

The change, in effect, put students returned to college and placed on probation on the same footing with all other students in academic requirements.

A earlier action had required such probationary students to meet higher scholastic standards than other students.

There was no mention of the fact that all-Negro Southern University was closed suddenly Thursday after student anti-segregation demonstrations. President Felton G. Clark of Southern was absent from the education board meeting. He was reported ill with influenza.

Davis Speaks At Louisiana Press Meet

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said Friday he welcomed a sincere criticism from the press.

He told the 82nd annual convention of the Louisiana Press Association that "we have more in common—you and I—than we have differences."

"I would never suggest that you do anything else but call things the way you see them. But I hope you will never question my sincerity in doing the things I do," the governor said.

Speakers at Saturday's session include U. S. Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La.; William J. Rogers, regional director, Wages and Hours Public Contracts Division, U. S. Department of Labor; and A. Body Campbell, former president, U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Davis said because newspapers have a vested interest in the capitalist system, "it is always surprising to me that there are so many militant, ultra-liberal newspapers."

"Should those in the journalism fraternity with an inclination toward a socialistic government ever achieve their wish, I believe they will find, to their sorrow, that they have succeeded only too well and that the first thing to go will be the free press," he added.

Davis called for a higher authority in public life than the voice of the crowd and the applause of the masses.

"If a public official were to allow mass and mob opinion to control government, he would be presiding over a monstrous disorganization of the true meaning of authority and he would create a censor upon his actions that could never possibly be held to account."

"I believe that the difference in the evaluation of public opinion is the prime point of contention between newspapers and public officials," Davis said. "In some respects, newspapers are public opinion."

Stevenson Asserts Candidacy Unlikely

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, was asked Friday if he'd like to run for public office in the near future.

"I think that interval in my life is over," replied Stevenson. "It has been for some time. I don't think I would care to go back to combat politics."

Interviewed on a television show—NBC-TV's "Today"—the twice-defeated Democratic presidential candidate was asked specifically if he would decline to run for the Senate.

Government workers in Washington braced for several inches and recalled that it was just a year ago Friday that a big storm hit the nations capital and kept snow-removers working nightlong clearing a 8-inch accumulation.

Winter was on the rampage from coast to coast.

Polar cold gripped the North. It was 36 below at Bemidji and International Falls, Minn., And-ozeman, Mont., 22 below at Duluth, Minn., and 19 below at Pellston, the traditional "ice box" of Michigan.

The wintry blast was expected to dump 10 inches of snow on sections of Illinois and Indiana. Weathermen said the snow would taper off to 3 inches in Wisconsin, to the North, and to freezing rain in Tennessee, to the south.

Heavy snow warnings extended eastward into Pennsylvania, with up to 8 inches expected in some western sections of the state. Snow began slicking Pittsburgh streets in the early afternoon.

Fourteen inches of snow slugged Kansas City. It brought the snowfall so far in January to more than 30 inches, the greatest on record for the month.

Wichita, Kan., had 15 inches of snow on the ground, the most in the city's history.

The nuclear-powered U.S. Navy Polaris submarines now provide an important part of U.S. strategic retaliatory forces, and in this field the United States is believed to be ahead of the Soviet Union.

"The Soviet Union probably already has some missile-firing submarines, a few of which may be nuclear - powered," McNamara testified.

"This fleet may be expected to grow in numbers and in capability and new measures will have to be devised to counter that threat."

AT MEETING HERE

Passman Defends Rural Cooperatives

Congressman Otto E. Passman defended rural electrification here yesterday before 215 persons attending a luncheon sponsored by the Association of Louisiana Electric Cooperatives, Inc.

"You do not need to apologize to anyone," Passman said. "You are private enterprise in the best American tradition."

About 100 persons attended the day-long business session, but 215, including numerous Fifth District public officials, were present for the luncheon.

With association president Orval Couch of Homer presiding, Mayor Pro-Tem H. W. McSherry extended the welcome in the absence of Mayor W. L. Howard, who is out-of-town.

Passman, who came home for the session and plans to return to Washington tomorrow, attributed the development of agriculture to the rural electrification program.

"In our state, the cooperatives have borrowed slightly in excess of $65-million during 23 years," he said. "You have repaid approximately one-third of the principal, over $6 1/2-million in interest on the REA loans, plus almost $7-million ahead of schedules."

On a national basis, Passman pointed out that rural electric consumers this year will provide a "billion-dollar market for electrical appliances and equipment alone."

"And let us not forget the contributions to our agricultural economy, the very life blood of our democracy," he stated.

"Here in Louisiana, more than $2-billion is invested in farm lands and equipment, by far the largest industry in the state."

Passman flew home from Washington to attend the session, saying:

"Here, I find no rampant juvenile delinquency, no crime waves, no hysterical cries for peace at any price, or demands for 20-hour work weeks in the face of a barbarous creed working 24-hours a day to destroy us. Nor do I hear cries for ever-more centralized federalism at the expense of constitutional freedoms."

Turning to agriculture, he said "no problem" in America today is "so little understood" as the farm problem.

While the farmer faces a problem of overproduction, Passman noted that when farmers are prosperous industry is prosperous.

But because of overproduction, the farmer is in trouble, the son explained, stating:

"In the past 10 years farm production increased almost 30 percent but agricultural income declined 26 per cent. Our farmers in Louisiana shared in the nationwide increase in farm income in 1961, but the increase was not great enough to bring out net farm income back to the level of 10 years ago."

He added, "I am deeply concerned about the continued cost-price squeeze and what it is doing to family farming in our rural areas, and I pledge that I shall continue to do all I can to ward alleviating this situation."

Tying agriculture with rural electrification, Passman said he believes the cooperatives' No. 1 problem is a "lack of public information and understanding of these private, home-owned enterprises, a lack of understanding that these electric cooperatives are not REA or federal enterprises in competition with private enterprises."

He explained, "The very scope, wording and intent of the REA Act of 1936 prevents and precludes federal ownership and control of rural power facilities. REA was never set up as, and has never been, a doing, ownership or management agency. It owns not a single foot of electric lines anywhere in the nation. It is a banking agency whose loans are secured by mortgage notes and interest rates."

Rural electrification, Passman said, was developed by "desperate rural people."

"The government did not organize these enterprises," he stated. "You do not need to apologize to anyone. You are private enterprise in the best American tradition."

Passman said his beliefs about rural electrification are "certainly not incompatible with my often announced philosophies and statements and my actions regarding private enterprise, government meddling in business, hand-outs, doles, welfareism, federal aid to education and about the general government debasement of private capitalism."

He added, "I agree with the late Speaker Sam Rayburn that rural electrification is the most rewarding investment ever made by the United States of America."

SCOUTING EVENT

Eight Local Girls To Attend Roundup

Eight Monroe teenagers have been selected to represent the 11-parish Silver Waters Girl Scout Council at the 1962 Senior Roundup at Button Bay, Vt., in July.

The patrol of girls will meet at 1 p.m. today at Scout headquarters, 2002 Stubbs Ave., to select a patrol leader for the trip.

Members are Jane Edwards, Milann Gannaway, Diane Halley, Beckie Smith, Barbara Suomi, Gayle and Mickey Varnado. All are senior Girl Scouts, and sophomores at Neville High School.

This will be the third annual roundup, and the second at which the local council is represented.

Some 10,000 Scouts from all over the world, with the majority from the United States and Canada, will attend the "primitive camping" session from July 20-29. Roundups are held once every three years.

Basis for selection of the patrol was: girl's written application; her Girl Scout troop leader's recommendation; her camping record; recommendation of her teachers; a rating by other girls who have camped with her; and an interview with members of a selection committee who rated her on poise and personality. Each also had to pass a physical examination.

Thirty-three scouts applied. In addition to the patrol, eight alternates were selected, to train with the patrol members and serve in place of any who are unable to attend.

Alternates are: Jateen Kelly of West Monroe High; Robbie Hicks, Becky Parkerson, Elaine Butler, Mary Einhorn and Carole Overton, all of Neville High; and Linda Upshaw and Mary Beth Rogers of Farmerville.

Mrs. Charles Overton, roundup trainer, will direct the girls in extensive training procedures between now and July. Each patrol will have to do its own cooking, set up their own tents, etc.

Girls in the alternate group will participate in a camping event in this region during the summer.

The five-state region of Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama and Tennessee will be represented by 585 girls at the roundup — the largest Girl Scout activity sponsored by the national organization.

The local council will buy four tents, equipment, charcoal burner and cooking utensils for the patrol. The girls will furnish their personal equipment, their $65 registration fee, and approximately $250 transportation fee which includes meals en route and two tours, of Washington, D.C., and New York City.

Theme of the roundup will be

Houston Hotel Refuses Negro Official Room

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—One of this city's largest hotels refused to rent a room to a Negro assistant secretary of labor Friday night, a Houston Negro leader said.

A. E. Warner, president of the Houston Negro Chamber of Commerce, said a clerk at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel's desk told George L. P. Weaver of Washington, D.C., the hotel was full and had no record of a reservation from him.

Warner said Weaver made a reservation with Hilton's reservation service in Washington.

The assistant secretary is in Houston to make a speech at the Negro Chamber of Commerce meeting.

"I think it must be a clerical error, but we're checking into it," a spokesman for the Shamrock said.

Weaver left the hotel shortly after the incident, reportedly to find a room elsewhere.

"We have several conventions here now and the hotel really is full. But after all he is an assistant secretary of labor," the hotel spokesman said.

Weaver could not be reached for comment.

"Honor the Past and Serve the Future."

Recognition will be given to the heritage of areas represented by the Scouts.

U.N. Probers To Visit Scene Of Plane Crash

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. commission investigating the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in a plane crash Sept. 18 in Northern Rhodesia will meet in Leopoldville, the Congo, next Wednesday and then visit the scene of the crash itself, the United Nations announced Friday. The commission is under mandate from the General Assembly to seek specific answers to questions which arose in connection with the crash, such as why the flight was undertaken at night without escort. The commission was requested also to find out whether the aircraft, which had suffered damage earlier from hostile aircraft fire, was in proper condition for use.

Creating A Physician

"Gone are the days when four years of medical schooling, atop four years of regular college work, plus one year of internship and mayhap a year of residency were regarded as sufficient to entitle a man to hang out his shingle."

This statement was among others made by Inez Robb, noted columnist, in referring to the number of years a person must study and the cost of becoming a licensed physician. Continuing, she said: "The American Board of Internal Medicine today requires a year in internship plus three years of residency before it qualifies a man to practice its specialty."

"In the good teaching hospitals in major medical centers, such as New York, from four to seven years of residency are required in surgery."

"What it all adds up to for the average American family trying to give one of its children a medical education is 10 to 12 years of financial stress, strain and sacrifice after the child is graduated from high school."

"In the large eastern medical schools, a spokesman estimated, a minimum of $3,000 a year is required to see a student through his basic four-year medical training."

This is a dilemma for which no one seems to have a solution. Often it means that only the children of the financially well to do may study medicine. Sometimes a young medical student marries a girl who has a good job and who is willing to carry the financial load until he is ready to practice.

Federal aid for students, of course, is one of the most frequently-proposed solutions in these days of pressure for socialism. Since the federal government in this country already is strongly in favor of socialized medicine, there seems little likelihood that we could have federal aid for medical students without having some kind of government control.

We might reach a situation somewhat similar to that which prevails in Russia. In that country most of the doctors are women who have had medical training which may not greatly exceed that of graduate nurses in this country. These are the only doctors whose services are available to most people and even those services are on something of an assembly-line basis. There are some highly-trained doctors in Russia but the number is limited.

In Russia the average woman doctor receives pay that is said to be somewhat less than the average factory worker gets. Because the doctor does not perform physical tasks as hard as those done by the factory workers, the government figures her pay should be less.

Since federal aid to medical students almost certainly would result in a stronger demand for socialized medicine, it would seem better to work out some other method of financing the students. Even the creation of a grade of physicians of less training than that of the regular doctors might be preferable to turning the whole profession over to the federal government. Most people in America want only the best but we know they would not get the best under socialized medicine and they might prefer medical practitioners ranging somewhere between graduate nurses and regular physicians to quick-trained doctors supplied by the government, as is done in Russia.

Many have wondered if there might be some plan under which big insurance companies could advance money to medical students, with contracts for repayment after practice is begun.

Inasmuch as socialized medicine has been recognized by the American Medical Association as a serious threat to the profession in this country, it might be possible for this organization to assist in working out some plan for helping to defray expenses of medical students.

Turkey And Foreign Aid

Turkey gives evidence of being more forthright and of being more firmly committed to a course of integrity than do many of the officials of the United States. Our foreign aid dolers have been more liberal with our avowed enemies and with the so-called neutrals than with those nations which have stood up strongly for the principles of freedom supposedly espoused by the United States and other western countries. Because Turkey has come out staunchly against Russia, we wonder what its chances of getting foreign aid from the United States will be.

Turkey's Foreign Minister Selim Sarper said recently he hoped outside assistance to his country could be increased.

At the same time, Selim Sarper said that as a NATO participant Turkey would keep its army at full strength even if additional aid is not forthcoming.

More important, he said: "Turkey has not requested foreign aid from Russia and she never will."

This outspoken pronouncement of just where Russia stands in relation to its Western allies deserves attention. It is so unlike most of those fawning governments which come with hand out and tongue in cheek, only to spit on the United States as soon as they get our cash.

The strange part about this is that the government officials of the United States seem to prefer those nations which take our money and then insult us. They would rather try to entice one oppositionist country into our fold than to hold a dozen which are already there.

Since Turkey is already avowedly an enemy of Russia, our political al-minded officials figure that giving that country any foreign aid would be a waste of money. They would rather give it to some Russian-loving country on the vain theory that that country might be weaned away from Russia.

Our government officials treat friendly nations just about the same way the Democratic party treats the south. The Democrats figure the south is already in their political bag, so they not only give us nothing in the way of patronage but deliberately try to work against the south and in favor of the north and east by such schemes as providing money to induce industrial firms not to move to the south and by governmental enforcement of unionization schemes with the objective of making the south's industrial climate, from a labor standpoint, as bad as that in the north and east.

If Turkey were sitting on the fence, pretending not to know whether to go to Russia's side or ours, we would be offering additional foreign aid on a silver platter. Since it is an avowed enemy of Russia, we may withhold the additional foreign aid.

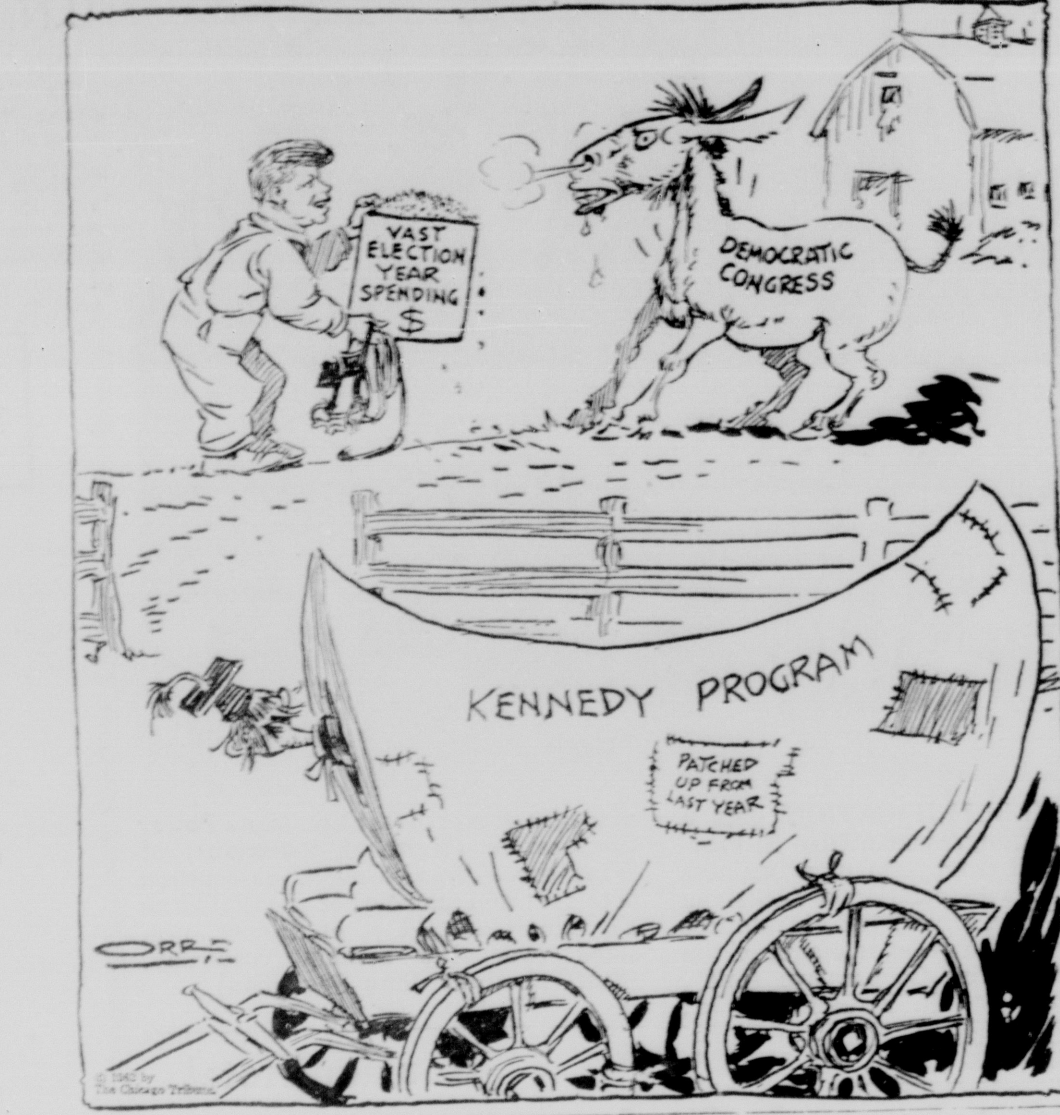

How long can we survive by rewarding our enemies and punishing our friends?

German Policy Explosive

Kennedy Gets Conflicting Advice From His Principal Advisers In State And Defense Departments

An explosive policy dispute, which could break out in the open at any time, has developed within the Kennedy administration over how far the U. S. should go in the rearming of Western Germany with a nuclear capability.

This has been going on at the very top of government, with President Kennedy getting conflicting advice during the past three weeks from his principal advisers in the State and Defense Departments.

The argument against giving Bonn's armed forces atomic weapons is being pushed by a group of State Department officials headed by George Kennan, U. S. Ambassador to Yugoslavia, now in the capital for consultations, and Charles E. Bohlen, special adviser to Secretary of State Dean Rusk on Soviet affairs.

They contend that the atomic armament of West German forces will greatly increase tensions between Russia and the NATO nations and will make it impossible to reach any political settlement on West Berlin or the Germany question with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Ambassador Kennan goes even further. He warns that this nuclear move could force Communist Yugoslavia into a new military alliance with the Soviet Union.

He argues that Tito's fears of a rearmend West Germany are so great that he would take this drastic move.

Against these surprise arguments a group of Defense Department officials, headed by Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, vigorously contend that the U. S. can not discriminate against the Bundeswehr in providing a nuclear capability to North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces.

They argue that the U. S. has given assurances to West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer that the Bonn forces will be given a nuclear capability and that this pledge must be honored to strengthen and unify NATO in the face of growing Soviet nuclear military forces.

The position of these officials is that West Germany is a strong and dependable ally of the U. S., while, at best, Communist Yugoslavia is an "unaligned Communist nation that usually follows Soviet foreign policy."

They point out that mere knowledge that West German troops, which will soon be the largest European force under NATO, have an atomic capability will be a powerful deterrent against future Soviet pressure on West Berlin or any other area of western Europe.

They discount the dangers of West Germany's acting on its own, since all nuclear warheads, under the NATO arms plans now under discussion, would remain under joint control of U. S. and NATO officials.

APPROACHING DECISION — There is an element of urgency in the current policy debate because of new pressure from NATO members, including West Germany, to set up an independent nuclear force within that alliance during 1962.

Also, the deadline is approaching if the president plans to seek congressional approval of its NATO nuclear plan before offering it at next May's meeting of the organization's foreign ministers.

At present, U. S. law leaves control of atomic weapons exclusively in the hands of the president. It forbids giving them to any foreign nation. To alter this law, congressional authorities say it would take at least three to four months since both the Senate and House must act.

So far as this column can determine, the president has not put the matter formally before the National Security Council, nor has he taken it up with the leaders of Congress. Instead, he has

Odor From Feet

Boy Bathes, Changes Socks Several Times Day To No Avail

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My son, although meticulously clean, suffers from a foot odor. This makes him very self-conscious when he is with a group of people.

He bathes twice, changes his socks two or three times a day, but nothing seems to help. Can you advise? — Mrs. M., Baltimore.

Comment: We call it bromhidrosis, and it's difficult to overcome. The reason is that we don't know the definite cause. To complicate matters, the sweat decomposes the tough outer layers of the skin, and this macerated skin may be attacked by bacteria, which intensify the process. Cleanliness, is of course, important. Sometimes foot socks help. For Example, your doctor may want to try potassium permanganate solutions or weak solutions of formaldehyde for soaking. But better not experiment with these yourself, because it is important not to overdo such treatment. These drugs can irritate the skin, and the patient finds himself with trouble that he didn't ask for.

Is your son an apparently nervous individual, Mrs. M.? One important cause of sweating in many people is tension. (For the same reason many persons who are nervous and tense give you a sweaty handshake). If your son is nervous, perhaps your doctor will consider prescribing some tranquilizer or sedative for a while. I have helped some excessive sweaters in this way.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is there to do in a case of leprosy? Can patient be treated at home or is he better off in a hospital? — Mrs. E.

Answer: Most doctors who have had any experience with leprosy believe that the newly diagnosed patient should have the benefit of study and treatment at the hospital in Carville, La. This also holds true for those chronic patients whose illness flares up. Although I have never had any personal experience in treating a patient who has leprosy, the present treatment of greatest value seems to be with the sulfone drugs.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: There's a history of coronary disease in my family. My cholesterol is high and I smoke two packs a day. Is there anything to this talk about tobacco being bad for the heart? — Mrs. W., Chicago.

Comment: Statistics may help convince you that smoking isn't exactly good for the heart. In a statement made in 1960 by the American Heart Association, regarding the effect of smoking on coronary heart disease, it was pointed out that death rates from heart attacks in middle-aged men are from 50 to 150 per cent higher among heavy smokers than among non-smokers. And lately, some experiments have shown that smoking raises the level of fats circulating in the blood.

limited it to informal discussions within the White House.

Opponents of giving the West Germans an atomic capability have taken their arguments outside of government. For example, Ambassador Kennan is actively urging support of his position in congressional and press circles. He has presented the anti-weapons case in private talks with a number of influential members of the Senate and House. In these meetings, Ambassador Kennan has carefully explained that he was presenting "his own views and not official policy."

The debate over independent nuclear authority has been given high priority in NATO this year at the request of Chancellor Adenauer. In addition to seeking atomic weapons, he is urging NATO members to place western defense and unity above absolute commitment to the United Nations.

LOOKING FORWARD — Yugoslavia would like to borrow several hundred million dollars from the U. S. over the next five to ten years. Tito says that the money, which he claims he would repay, would go for industrial development. He is also urging the U. S. to greatly increase its trade in strategic goods as well as farm products. . . . The U. S. is planning to develop a truck - mounted medium - range missile system for NATO. Called the Midgetman, the vehicle would carry a solid - fuel rocket with a nuclear warhead. Its range would be 1,200 to 2,000 miles.

Bad Appointment

Bontempo Given Important Position For Political Reasons

Government is weak when men are appointed to administrative jobs who have had little or no administrative experience. The politician can serve to help someone be elected but that does not mean that he knows how to manage an important office or that he has a breadth of view which serves the country.

To cite a case, Salvatore Anthony Bontempo was appointed to be Administrator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs of the State Department, a position of outstanding significance. A man appointed to such a position should have a broad view of the world, a knowledge of geography and of commerce, an understanding of espionage and the techniques of security. It turned out that Bontempo, before he was appointed and resigned, had no such experience. He was a lawyer who had not practiced law; he had been a welfare worker and a store inspector in Newark and managed a company of his own, Miller and Bontempo, Inc. in Dayton, Ohio, which dealt in surplus war materials.

In May 1953, Bontempo, after returning to Newark, became a City Commissioner and eventually Director of the Division of Veterans Services, New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development. In 1953, he became Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

What all these political jobs have to do with training for the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs of the State Department, it is hard to say. If a top FBI OR Secret Service or long-experienced consular service man were appointed to this position, it could be understood. That position has to do with immigration, passports, the proper conduct of consular offices, the operations of foreign spies against the United States.

Bontempo was apparently appointed because he was an active and effective politician in Newark. Be that as it may, he had no prior training to serve in this office. It is further reported that Bontempo was appointed because he is an Italo-American. It is very dangerous for this country for men to be appointed because of racial or religious relationships. There has been too much of this in municipal, state and local appointments and the time has come to oppose this because it is definitely antagonistic to American principles.

The purpose of this account is not particularly to call attention to Bontempo but rather to emphasize the need for a reorganization not only of the State Department but of the entire federal organization which has grown in size and character since the beginning of World War II and which requires immediate reorganization. Two Presidents have appointed Herbert Hoover and very effective commissions to accomplish such a reorganization. President Kennedy's father was a member of such a Commission and the Attorney General, Robert Kennedy, served on one of the Commissions. It is about time that the Executive Branch of Government be reorganized so that it functions efficiently and in the best interest of the American people.

It is clear that the Civil Service, the Foreign Service Officers and tenure, while intended to safeguard public servants from politicians, have not served to safeguard the people against improper appointments. Once a fellow gets himself on the Civil Service or the Foreign Service the interest of the people may be sacrificed to his selfish purposes. This then is the real peril of political appointments. It is not so much that these persons are put on jobs but that it becomes increasingly difficult to get rid of them. After a while, it is impossible to get rid of them because they have established tenure.

I have heard for many months that the Eastland Committee was engaged in investigating this question. Time after time, it is suggested that on a certain date, public hearings will be held by that Committee. Each time, the date is postponed. In its stead, there is a secret hearing, but the so-called Executive Session passes like a whisper in the wind. The latest news is that the Eastland Committee fears the very great power of Senator Fulbright. This may not be so at all. I may simply be passing the buck.

The public wants to know what the facts are and delay is intolerable. Enough of the data is available so that it can be forced out. The public has a right to know and those who are suppressing the truth should be disclosed and undoubtedly will be.

Albania Wants U.S. Assistance Despite Big Red China Aid

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Beautiful blondes are the downfall of diplomats, and in a similar way brave, suffering, small countries seem to have a fatal pull on the sentimentality of the American people. This might not be a bad time to raise a warning about a small country which fits the above description, but which could do us wrong by playing upon our sympathies.

Albania, a neighbor of Tito's Yugoslavia and just across the Strait of Otranto from Italy, has been read out of the Soviet orbit by Khrushchev himself. Albania has been automatically drawn into the influence of Red China which now provides that country with $123 million of credit, as well as with propagandists and technical instructors.

But Albania has an eye on the American money bags as well. Poland, of course, and more recently, Ghana, have illustrated how profitable it is to attract American attention by being a hard - up, suffering, striving people who have, sadly, fallen under Soviet domination and influence. There are already reports that Albania needs both American and Red China to make its economy shine.

As always, we are confronted with a difference between the people of a small, spunky country and the dictatorial masters of it. With Albania, the strong nationalism of its people and their demonstrated love of liberty are about the only threats to the Communist tyranny which fastened upon Albania in 1944 when the hated Italo - German Axis was tottering to defeat.

The population is amazingly homogeneous for this day and age — 98 per cent Albanian; about two per cent Greek. But one factor which has always fought Communism in Red - dominated countries — the Church — is not very important in Albania. The School of Ethnic Studies, Georgetown University, had issued a pamphlet on Albania by Jani I. Dilo, which finds that the lack of strong religious influence stems from the poor education and lack of purpose in Moslem and Greek Orthodox churches which tend to the spiritual needs of Albanians.

The Albanian Communist leaders are all either adherents of Islam or the Orthodox Church — a situation that must be unique. Nearly everywhere in the world, the clergy of all faiths and denominations fight a war of resistance against Communism.

Albania is a natural enemy of Khrushchev because, from first to last, this small country has aped the tactics of Stalin. The Albanian Reds established themselves by terror and maintained power by periodic purges which were the sincerest forms of flattery of Stalin.

The ruling clique in Albania consists of ten men, in a population of 1.6 million people. Two men among the top ten actually run the country. Number One Red, according to the Georgetown study, is Mehmet Shehu, a veteran of the Spanish Civil War and a graduate of a Fascist concentration camp. Better known to the American public is Enver Hoxha, First Secretary of the Party, a former Tito protégé, fluent in French and Italian, as well as his own language and a typical Stalinist combination of political and military leadership.

Nothing under heaven, and certainly nothing the USA can give or promise, will turn these life-long, dedicated Reds into anything else. Aid and sympathy to Albania will only strengthen their power and increase the frequency and flagrancy of their purges. Lacking a religious base, there seems to be no way that we can reach the Albanian people in defiance of their leaders.

Today is Saturday, Jan. 20, the 20th day of the year with 345 to follow in 1962.

The moon is full.

The evening star is Mercury. On this day in history:

In 1801, President John Adams appointed John Marshall of Virginia to be chief justice of the Supreme Court.

In 1887, the Senate approved the leasing of Pearl Harbor, in the Hawaiian Islands, as a base for the U. S. Navy.

In 1936, King George V of England died with his eldest son, the Prince of Wales, succeeding to the throne as Edward VIII.

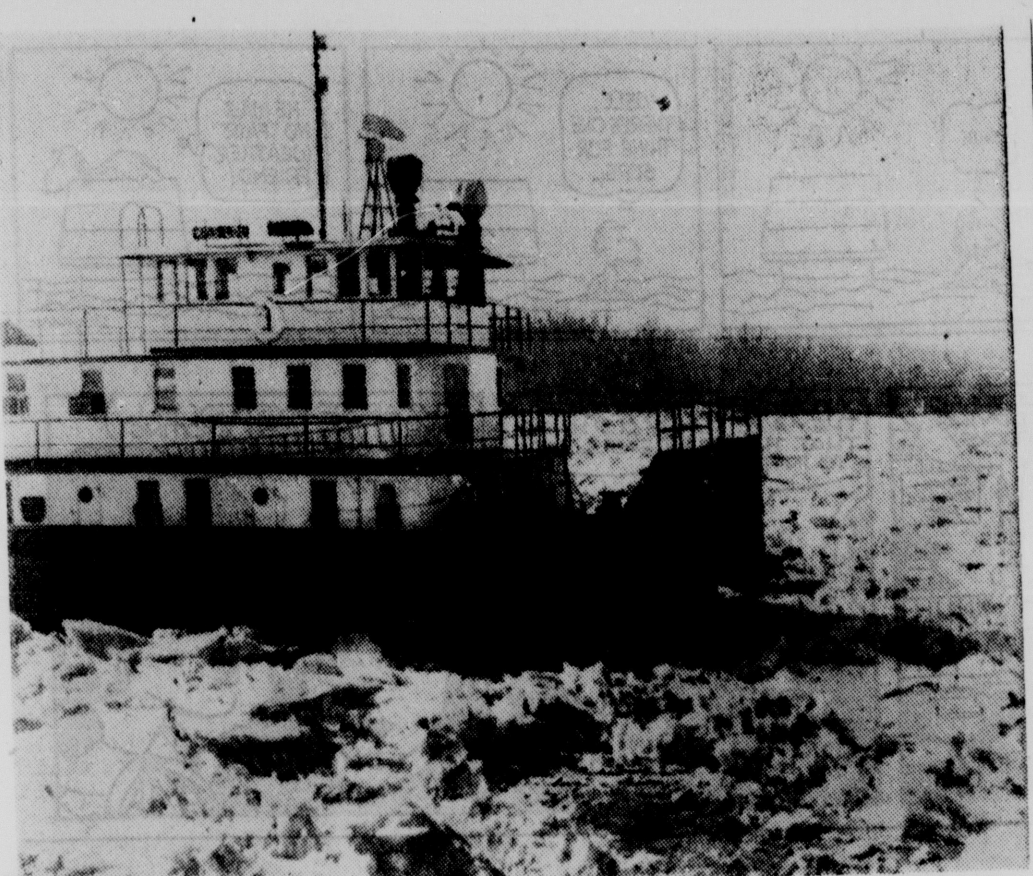

In 1941, Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated for his third term of office as President of the United States.

A thought for the day: English lexicographer and critic, Dr. Samuel Johnson, once said: "Life is a progress from want to want, not from enjoyment to enjoyment."

U.S. Moves Last Tanks From Border

The Army announced the 10 M-48 tanks and armored personnel carriers will be stationed at Tempelhof Air Base, one and one-half miles from the border, and at other West Berlin sites.

The free jurists' investigating committee report could not be confirmed.

The U. S. pullback began Tuesday, and was followed Wednesday night by the departure of an estimated 40 Soviet tanks from their station about 1,500 yards on the other side of the border.

Both sets of armor had been

Runaway Sought By Area Police

Area law officers Friday were on the watch for a 16 year old run-away identified as Marsha Faye Hinton.

The girl was described as four feet, five inches in height, weighing about 110 pounds, with blond hair and blue eyes. When last seen she was reported wearing a pink shirt, black sweater and red and brown checked card coat.

She moved up to the city wall during the tense days of last October, when East German Communist border policemen were harassing U. S. officials crossing into the Soviet sector.

The Army said the tank move was aimed at "improving their military disposition."

Kennedy Asks Support Of Businessmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and two Cabinet members made a pitch Friday for business world support of the administration program to lower trade barriers and spur economic growth.

First Kennedy, then Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon stressed the urgency of quick action so the United States can work closely with the European Common Market.

They spoke to more than 600 leaders of business, finance, industry, communications, labor and state officials from all parts of the United States.

The purpose of the meeting was to kick off the "Freedom Bond Drive," sponsored by the Savings Bond Division of the Treasury Department.

Kennedy, in his brief speech before taking off for New York and a luncheon meeting with U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant stressed the part savings bonds play in easing inflationary pressures.

Kennedy again urged business and organized labor to show restraint in wage negotiations this year, to make sure wage hikes are tied to increase in productivity so they will not touch off price increases.

If price stability can be maintained for another year, Kennedy said, "and we can increase our exports by as much as 5 per cent it will mean a reduction of $1 billion in our balance of payments deficit."

"A 10 per cent rise in exports and our balance of payments deficit is defeated," he said, adding: "We spend $3 billion a year in maintaining our forces abroad. This effects our balance of payments problem, so the need to solve this problem cuts right to the heart of our national security."

Rusk followed up by stressing the urgency of closer trade ties with the common market.

"There is tremendous momentum in Europe behind the common market idea," he said. "The time is ripe, physiologically, for the United States to sustain this momentum by entering into negotiations with these countries for a comprehensive reduction in our tariffs for similar reductions in the common market external tariff."

Superintendent For State Deaf School Okayed

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana Board of Education approved a recommendation Friday that school Supt. Lloyd V. Funchess of East Baton Rouge Parish schools be named superintendent of the State School for the Deaf here.

Funchess will leave voluntarily a post he refused to vacate under pressure last spring when the parish school board, under the push of a majority including four appointees of Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, attempted to oust him.

In court battles later, Funchess was upheld in the post.

The state education board approved a report by one of its committees naming Funchess, after 11 applicants for the post had been interviewed.

Union Leaders Hail Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—New York electricians' success in winning an unprecedented five-hour workday was hailed by labor as a striking breakthrough in a nationwide effort to cut unemployment. It also was tabbed a pattern-setter for other unions.

The victory was achieved despite opposition from President Kennedy, who has repeatedly spoken out against reducing the work week under the present economic situation and world trade competition.

A native of Couchhatta, Mr. Mobley had lived at Jonesboro during the past 25 years where he was a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic Lodge. He had several local business interests.

Three Are Fined In West Monroe On DWI Charges

West Monroe city judge John McCormick in court activity Friday sentenced three persons — one of them a Winnsboro man — to $300 fines or 90 days in jail for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

One of those convicted — John H. Martin, 43, of 412 Pine St. — also drew a fine of $50 or 30 days for operating his car without a valid state driver's license. Others sentenced included Mrs. J. A. Hollis, 61, of 606 Richardson St. in Monroe, and Hollis R. Rayborn, 24, box 208, Winnsboro.

A 49-year-old Ocean Springs, Miss., man, George Butler, drew six months in jail for disturbing the peace, as did Lucy Cramer, 45, 306 Ludvig Ave. The Cramer woman also was fined $25 or 30 days in a separate charge of theft of a bottle of anacin tablets. Conviction of disturbing the peace resulted in fines of $50 or 30 days for 46-year-old Leonard F. Puckett, 111 Conrad St., and $30 or 30 days for Herbert W. Spencer, 34, of 1015 Hicks St.

Two Negro women each drew $50 or 60 days fines for aggravated battery; they were Florene M. Duncan, 20, Rear Grape St., and Nanetta Caldwell, 22, of 100 S. 10th St.

Hugh Taylor, 47, 404 Register St., forfeited bond of $20.50 for reckless driving.

Eighteen-year-old David R. Arnold, of 104 Sholars St., forfeited bond in the same amount for speeding, and a bond of $3 was forfeited by Charles H. Tillman, 21, 1112 S. 4th St., Monroe, for making a U-turn.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

President Lincoln named a new secretary of war in January 1862 and a stranger man never was appointed to a cabinet amid a stranger set of circumstances.

The new war minister was Edward McMasters Stanton, a controversial figure then and now.

Lincoln's first war secretary, Simon Cameron of Pennsylvania, had been "kicked upstairs" in a short while before he was ambassador to Russia. He left in an aura of army contract scandals but he carried a letter from Lincoln praising his services.

The true story of how Stanton got the job, who was responsible for the appointment and, more important, why, seems destined to go down even now as one of history's better mysteries.

For years after the war, three men claimed credit for putting Stanton into the cabinet. They were Secretary of State William H. Seward, Secretary of Treasury Salmon P. Chase and Cameron himself. The only one who could really answer was President Lincoln, who, of course, made the actual appointment and may have let each of the three believe he had selected Stanton while all along Lincoln had intended to do it anyway.

Stanton, an Ohioan, born in Steubenville and educated at Kenyon College at Gambier, was a political maverick—all things to all men.

During the Nullification Crisis in 1832, when he was in college, Stanton was a rabid partisan of President Jackson's "get tough" policy against South Carolina.

Always an anti-slavery man, by 1848 Stanton had become a member of the Free Soil party, a group which eventually merged with the new Republicans.

But by 1865 Stanton was back in the ranks of the Democrats working for the election of James Buchanan.

In 1860, although he was a confidante of abolitionists, he supported John C. Breckenridge and even stumped for the pro-slavery presidential candidate of the Democrats.

In the waning days of the Buchanan administration after the '60 election when the issue of leaving Fort Sumter almost tore apart the administration, Stanton was attorney general. From late in December 1860 until the Lincoln administration came in on March 4, 1861, he fought in cabinet meetings to reinforce and retain Sumter and denounced the "traitors." All this time, he was feeding inside information to the Republicans.

Yet with all this playing of both ends against the middle, Stanton retained Buchanan's friendship and kept him informed of events in the early part of the Lincoln administration.

Seward was one of the cabinet members who advocated the selection of Stanton. Seward and Cameron were political enemies and the secretary of state saw here a chance to get a man of his own into the cabinet. Seward had been the chief receiver of information from Stanton during the Sumter crisis and had passed on some of the information to President-elect Lincoln in Springfield, Ill.

Chase, a cabinet rival of Seward, also advocated Stanton for the job despite the fact he was an anti-slavery man and a Radical Republican leader and Stanton recently had been on the pro-slavery side.

When Cameron resigned, he recommended Stanton as his successor. He recorded that Lincoln told him to find out if Stanton would accept.

Cameron went to Chase and together they saw Stanton who said yes and got the job he must have been angling for all summer and fall.

However the story is pieced together, Stanton became secretary of war on Jan. 15, 1862 and remained there through the Lincoln enemies said the outbursts simply were ill temper and plain rudeness. All through his life ran a strang amalgam of religion and morbidity.

He started life as a Quaker, his country - physician father's faith. When he married "outside the meeting," he turned Methodist with his bride. Later he became an Episcopalian.

When his first child died, he ordered the body exhumed, cremated and kept the metal casket of ashes on the mantle.

When he was young one of his fellow boarders was a girl who died of the plague and was buried—as was the custom during an epidemic—the same day. He had seen her at the noon meal apparently well. When he came to supper she was dead and buried. He opened her grave to satisfy himself that she had not been buried alive.

Forty-seven years old when he became secretary of war, Stanton was a medium-sized man with a square-cut beard which covered his collar and necktie, and a smooth-shaven upper lip. He wore glasses with small lenses which gave him an owl-like aspect.

Mississippi seceded from the Union Jan. 9, 1861.

Union Army deaths in the Civil War totaled 359,528, including 110,070 killed or died of wounds, 224,536 died of disease and 24,872 other deaths, according to War Department records. Estimated Confederate Army deaths, for which no official records are available, were 133,821 including 52,954 killed in battle, 21,570 died of wounds and 59,297 died of disease.

Bearcats Swarm Over Tiger Five

Wallop Locals 80-54 In 2-AA District Game

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

The Ruston High Bearcats didn't look like state champions for one quarter here last night. This was the first quarter.

For the next three they did. And the result was murder as Ruston thrashed a good Neville high team 80-54 in an important district 2-AA basketball game before a more than capacity crowd jammed into Tiger gym here last night.

The defending state champion Bearcats started poorly, letting Neville jump off to a lead that went as high as eight points, 17-9, with 2:40 left in the opening period.

At this point the Bearcats began playing and they never quit. Ruston closed the gap with a rush to tie the score 17-17 just before the quarter ended.

From there on it was strictly Ruston. Neville, in a characteristically cold third quarter, got only five points.

Ruston dumped in 21. This doomed the Tigers, ending an Neville hopes of coming back and turning the game into a rout. The score was 61-38 starting the final period.

All-star Charles Shuffield led Bearcat scoring with 26 points and did a tremendous rebounding and general defensive job. He was followed closely by Ruston's other really big man, 6-5, Lawson Swearingen who hit 21 and was also a bear off the backboards.

But the game was not necessarily a true indication of the two clubs' strength's Neville's top scorers were about as cold as you can get from the field.

But Cerniglia, the number two man on offense for the Tigers, got only one field goal. He did wind up as one of the leading scorers with 11 points, nine of them coming on foul shots.

Guard Frank Keith tied Cerniglia's effort with 11 points, on three field goals and five charity tosses.

Right behind these two was Truett Nolan, Neville's top scorer, 10. Nolan, however, sank only two field goals before fouling out late in the game.

And in this lay one of the secrets of the game.

The other was undoubtedly a web-like Ruston defense that kept Neville at a superior corps of tall men under the baskets that limited the Tigers to the game.

In the first quarter Neville's big Dave Christiansen and Cerniglia managed to hold their own against the Ruston carmers and the Tigers did a excellent job of cashing in on a large number of foul shots against the Bearcats.

In a spirited effort the Tigers took their early lead. But then Ruston caught on, started taking over control of the backboards and driving in through the Tiger defense to go ahead and then sail away.

The Bearcats led first at 6:03 of the second period, 22-20. Neville tied the score at 22-22 but that was the last time.

It was a rough game with 23 fouls called on Ruston and 31 on Neville. Both teams had several men sent to the bench. Nolan went first at 4:46 of the third quarter. He was followed by Ruston's Charles Barmore and John Segars of Neville.

The game was Neville's second loss in 18 games. It was the Tigers first district contest.

Ruston is now 20-1 for the season and 2-0 in district play.

The two meet again in Ruston Feb. 2.

Barmore, a sharp guard for the Bearcats, followed Shuffield and Swearingen in scoring with 16 points. Joe Canal collected nine for Neville and Christiansen and Segars got six apiece.

It was a good game through the first half with both teams going full steam and Ruston ahead only seven points at the half. But that third quarter killed Neville and the Bearcats wound up RUSTON STAR, Charles Shuffield (25) stretches up for this rebound in the game with Neville here last night. Tiger Butch Cerniglia (40) and Bearcat Lawson Swearingen (35) go after the oval along with Shuffield. Truett Nolan (44) and Dave Christiansen (54) of Neville are also in the action. LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — The mighty Lake Providence sextet, defending Class B state champions for the past two years, rolled to its 51st straight victory over a three year span here last night, defeating Oak Grove 58-29.

In the boys tilt, Oak Grove took a 42-35 win.

Johnnie Green paced Lake Providence's girls to their 14th win this year with 30 points. Mildred Delancy was high for the losers with 21.

Kent Davis and Mickey Turner provided the one - two scoring punch for Oak Grove, firing 12 each, while Larry Dupree of Lake Providence took high scoring honors for the game on 20 points.

Spence Comes Through

STERLINGTON (Special) B. B. Spence came through with a clutch tip-in with five seconds left to give Sterlington a 44-42 victory over Mer Rouge here last night.

Spence was also the leading scorer for the Panthers with 12 points. Joe Pratt and Roy Brant each 10 for Sterlington and both played a fine all-around game. Walter Farkenberg fired in 23 for the losers.

In the girls game, which Sterlington won 40-24, Earline Bates got 20 points and Cherry Williams 12 for the winners. Jean Clark and Marilyn Farkenberg both had 10 for Mer Rouge.

The Panthers travel to Spearsville Monday for a district contest.

Rayville, 53-40

RAYVILLE (Special) — Rayville took a 53-40 basketball win over Delhi in district 2-A play here last night with Charles Gammill pacing the scoring with 22 and 5-11 Craig Henderson canning 20 rebounds.

L. E. Clifford scored 18 for Delhi.

The win gave Rayville a 3-2 district mark and a 6-5 season record.

Rayville also won a freshman game 37-17, but Delhi took a 42-37 in a boys B game.

Butch Jeffries scored 11 for Rayville in the frosh contest and Richard Hurt got 12 for Delhi. Ringle Gelton hit 16 for Delhi in the B game. Butch Jeffries led Delhi with 14.

The game with almost a full quintet of reserves.

Ruston's biggest margin was 32 points, 71-39 with 4:10 left. At this juncture the crowd, that had been packed elbow to elbow with standing room only, and little of that, began filing out.

Neville did narrow the margin some in the final minutes, catching up to 26 points in the final score, but it was Ruston's night to be champion, not the Tigers.

Bernice Tourney

BERNICE (Special) — Eight games were unraveled yesterday and last night here at the annual Bernice cage tournament. Today's action will include the semi-finals, which start at 1:30 o'clock, and the finals tonight.

In the afternoon session yesterday, Bernice's sextet squeezed out an exciting 32-31 decision over Calhoun. Carolyn Elliott popped in 16 for the winners, while Geny Gillingham had 18 for Calhoun.

In the other girls game, Harrisonburg topped Junction City 39-24 behind Helen Randall's 21 points. Thelda Owens capped in 13 for the losers.

Spearsville raced by Harrisonburg 68-56 in a boys game as Joey Barron bombed the nets for 34 points. Jackie Owens led the losers with 20.

In the other afternoon contest, Lisbon rolled over Dubach, 63-42. Jim Koch got 19 for the winners and Dickie Lewis 15 for Dubach.

In last night's girls action, Spearsville raced by Summerfield 54-40, and Marion downed Lisbon 47-33.

Rosa Futch led Spearsville with 29, and Patricia Sayers got 21 for the Summerfield sextet. Wanda Brasher had 24 to lead Marion's win, while Darlene Harley got 17 for the losers.

In boys play, Farmerville took Bernice in a thriller, 57-55. Jerry Allen scored for Farmerville and Kermit Pilgreen 26 for the losers.

Homer stopped Summerfield 48-37 in the other boys' night game behind Tommy Atkins and Jackey Sanders 17 points each. Harold Culp had 10 for the losers.

Sicily Island Rides

THIBODEAUX (Special) — The Sicily Tigers, playing in a preliminary game before Nicholls State's game, downed LaRose Cutoff 64-44 here last night.

The Tigers rode the 23 point production of Albert Krause to their victory. Weeks chipped in with 18 points for Sicily Island and Laro poked in 18 for the losers.

Nicholls won the feature game of the night 76-61 over Corpus Christi University of Texas.

Sicily Island will take on Nicholls' freshmen tonight in another preliminary game before Nicholls' varsity plays.

SEEK REVENGE

Tech Five Hosts McNeese Tonight

RUSTON, La., (Special) — Louisiana Tech's cage team takes time out from final tests Saturday night in an attempt to get revenge for an earlier overtime loss to McNeese State.

The game will start at 8 p.m., in memorial gymnasium here.

Top Scorer Kicked Off Poke Squad

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) —McNeese State will unveil a new starting lineup when it meets Louisiana Tech in an important Gulf States Conference basketball game at Ruston Saturday night.

Cowboy coach Ralph Ward has dismissed scoring leader John Riddle from the squad for disciplinary reasons. To compensate for the loss of Riddle, a 6-6 senior who had averaged 15.2 points per game, Ward will move Don Troutman (6-2) to a post position and give either senior Don Upshaw or freshman Clyde Briley (both 6-1) a crack at a starting job.

Al Nesmith (6-5) will share tandem post duties with Troutman, Captain Jimmie Shields (6-1) and Jim Cain (6-0) will round out the starting Cowboy quint.

Shields now ranks as McNeese's scoring leader with an 11.7 average. Troutman follows with a 10.1 average.

The Cowboys will undoubtedly miss Riddle's height, but Ward feels Troutman will benefit by his move from an outside position to the more familiar post spot.

In conference play, McNeese ranks third with a 2-1 record and Tech stands fourth with a 1-2 mark. A victory would move McNeese into a tie for second place, but a loss would force the defending conference champs to share third with Tech.

Merger Of Class A, AA Baseball Clubs Discussed

NEW YORK (AP)—A merger of the Class AA Southern Association and Class A South Atlantic League was a strong possibility Friday following a meeting between Commissioner Ford Frick and George Trautman, head of the National Association of Minor Leagues.

The two high officials, after a two-hour session in the commissioner's office, agreed to meet again next Wednesday at Charlotte, N.C. The club officials of the two minor leagues involved will be asked to attend.

The Southern Association was reduced to four teams when Birmingham, Shreveport, Atlanta and Macon, Ga., dropped out at the conclusion of the 1961 season. Evansville, Ind., was to have taken over Atlanta's franchise for 1962.

The Sally League currently is comprised of eight teams. Augusta, Ga., rejoined the circuit last October. Other members of the Sally League include Asheville, Knoxville, Columbia, Greenville, Charleston, Portsmouth and Charlotte.

Hal Totten is president of the Southern Association and Sam Smith is head of the Sally League.

Frick, in a brief statement, said a plan was discussed to improve the troubled situation existing in the Southern Association. He said further information would be forthcoming following next week's meeting with the club officials.

At Birmingham, Totten said he opposes the merger "because it would eliminate two Southern Association cities — Nashville and Evansville."

"I'm uninformed as yet of the plans for the meeting next week," he said. "However, it would seem more logical to me to place two of the Sally League clubs in the Southern and operate two six-club leagues."

Bastrop Takes Two

BASTROP (Special) — Bastrop upped its season mark to 15-6 here last night by downing Kilbourne, 58-40. The Rams sextet also won in a thriller, 30-29.

James Randall scored 14 points and Eugene Bates 12 for Bastrop's boys, while Scotty Hendricks with 12 and Hollis Hill with 10 led Kilbourne.

Cathy Dwyde poked in nine for the winning girls and Donna Edwards got 18 for Kilbourne.

Choudrant Wins

CHOUDRANT (Special)—Choudrant's Aggies toppled Chatham 64-41 here last night in the varsity game after Chatham's "B" team eased to 33-32 win the preliminary contest.

Robert Britt got 18 for the winners and Tidwell had 24 for Chatham.

In the "B" game, Harper fired in 14 for the winners, and Green 12 for Choudrant.

Forest Wins

EPSS (Special) — The visiting Forest Bulldogs captured a cage doubleheader here last night from Epps' Panthers.

Forest won the boys game 51-50 behind the shooting of Mike Vinning and Richard Strong who both got 15 points. Louis Leve-land and Don Raley each had 12 for the losers.

Forest took the girls tilt 49-35.

Ridan, T.V. Lark Favorites Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unbeaten Ridan, a leading Kentucky Derby candidate, makes his 3-year-old bow and T. V. Lark his 1962 debut in feature races on Saturday's turf program.

Ridan, with Bill Hartack in the saddle, is expected to go postward at 2 to 5 or less in the $25,000-added Hibiscus Stakes at Hialeah.

He won seven races last year, including the Arlington and Washington Park Futurities.

The 5-year-old T.V. Lark, winner over Kelso in the Washington, D.C. International Handicap last fall makes his first start in the year in the $25,000-added San Marcos Handicap at Santa Anita.

Twelve fillies and mares are slated to run in the other half of the Santa Anita doubleheader, the $25,000-added Santa Maria Handicap. The $10,000 Black Gold Handicap is the main event at New Orleans Fair Grounds.

T.V. Lark, to be ridden by Johnny Longden in the silks of Preston Madden, is one of nine entered in the 1 1/4 mile Arcadia feature. His main contention probably will come from Jacnot Stable's Oink and Jerome Kendrick's Art Market. T.V. Lark, under top

Wildcats Going For Victory On Demon's Court

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — A cage rivalry of long standing adds the first half of another chapter here tonight when Louisiana College tries to hang a defeat on Northwestern State College on its home court — an almost impossible feat for the Wildcats in previous years.

The Wildcats of Coach Billy Allgood are on a three-game win streak after a slow start to the season. They're 5-7 over Mississippi.

Recent wins were over Mississippi College at Pineville and a two victories over William Carey at Hattiesburg, Miss.

Dale Hardwick, Leesville junior, has been the top Cat scorer in recent contests, registering 28 and 21 points last weekend against the William Carey quintet. Bob Fortenberry, Baton Rouge junior, has been a top rebounder and scorer for the Cats.

Campbell Grabs Lead In Crosby's Tourney

JOE CAMPBELL, of Powell, Tenn., blasts out of a sand trap at the edge of the 13th green of the Pebble Beach course yesterday in the second round of Bing Crosby's golf tournament. His ball rolled across the green about 35 feet and dropped into the hole for a birdie 3. The shot was made during a driving rain storm. Campbell shot a 71 for the day, coupled with his 67 Wednesday for a match-leading score of 138. (AP Wirephoto)

By JACK STEVENSON
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Stormy winds and rain failed to halt the sub-par shooting of Hoosier Joe Campbell who grabbed the midway lead Friday in Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament with a 36-hole score of 138.

Bundled in heavy foul weather gear, the 190-pound former National Collegiate champion from Purdue toured the treacherous Pebble Beach course in a one-under-par 71 while most scores were soaring into the gale-force winds. "I don't believe conditions for playing golf could be much worse," the 26-year-old pro from Pendleton, Ind., said. "But it seemed like every time I hit a poor shot I got a good break."

The best break came at the 13th hole where Campbell hit out of a wet sand trap and the ball dropped into the hole, 35 feet away.

That shot eventually became his one-stroke margin over 23-year-old Jacky Ccpit, a Texan who also had a 71 at Pebble Beach and a 139 total.

Ken Venturi of San Francisco, who won the Crosby two years ago, slipped into third place with a 69-141. He played the Monterey Peninsula Country Club on his second round.

Pro Bob McCallister from Yorba Linda, Calif., and Los Angeles outfielder Albie Pearson maintained their lead in the pro-amateur division with a best ball 59-64-123.

McCallister posted a 151 pro score at this mid-point so the little left-handed baseball player, with his handicap of 10 strokes per 18 holes, has helped his partner by 28 strokes in two days, pushing their team out to a five-stroke lead.

They played their round Friday at Cypress Point, where a choppy sea was the backdrop.

The storm tossed both young Phil Rodgers and 52-year-old Chuck Congdon, who shared the first round lead with Campbell at 67.

Rodgers, of San Diego, carded 75 for a 142 that still left him in good position. Congdon, of Tacoma, Wash., skidded to a 78 and 145.

Jack Nicklaus also found the going rough and notched a 77 at Monterey Peninsula for a 148 total. The 1961 National Amateur champion from Columbus, Ohio, who recently turned pro, had started with a 71.

At 142 with Rodgers were Bob Harrison and Doug Sanders. Harrison had 73 Friday, Sanders 69.

Winds up to 40 miles per hour whistling off the Pacific had even the seagulls hustling for cover. Only a few hundred spectators braved the elements and some of these had their umbrellas turned inside out by the gusts.

Campbell must constantly nurse a back ailment and sleeps in traction each night. But he says, "It hasn't bothered my golf."

Although he played in the Crosby in both 1959 and 1960, the former collegiate basketball and golf star has never collected any money here. Now he heads the list in quest of the $5,300 first prize.

Veteran Ellsworth Vines blew to a 91 while British Ryder Cup team member Eric Brown had a 90. Those scores waited both out of contention.

Art Wall had an 81 and Dutch Harrison 83, leaving them at 155 and 158 respectively.

Only eight pros of the original field of 162 were under par after 36 holes. There were 30 par busters Thursday.

Soon opening round leaders fell hard. Harry Umbinetti, a driving range pro from North Bend, Ore., put an 81 with his opening 68 and Frank Boynton, of Corpus Christi, Tex., shot 82 after opening with 69.

Mason Rudolph, who also started at 68, shot a 77 and commented, "The weather was too bad for me. When the wind blows like that, par is more like 75 than 72 here."

Billy Casper went from a 68 to a 78 and a 146 total.

Also at 146 was defending champion Bob Rosburg, who shot 71, the same score recorded by Arnold Palmer. Palmer now has a 147 total.

IT'S ROGERS HORNSBY at bat and manager Casey Stengel doing the pitching at a news conference in New York Friday, after an announcement that Hornsby will be a coach with the New York Mets. Mets Get Hornsby As Batting Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, a member of the Hall of Fame and one of the great hitters of all time, has been signed as a coach by the New York Mets, club President George Weiss announced Friday.

Hornsby's specific duties will be to serve as a batting instructor. The 65-year-old Rajag had been employed by the Mets as a scout on special assignments in the Chicago area.

Hornsby, who boasts a lifetime batting mark of .358, second only to Ty Cobb's .367, holds the modern major league record of .424 for a season. He accomplished that in 1924 over a five year period, from 1921 through 1925, his batting average was .402.

Rogers played with and managed five clubs. The hard-bitten Texan led the St. Louis Cardinals to their first pennant and world championship in 1926 but the next year he was traded to the New York Giants. He also played with Chicago and Boston in the National League and St. Louis in the American and managed the Braves, Cubs, Browns and Reds in addition to the Cards.

The Mets' other coaches also have been major league managers. Solly Hemus managed the St. Louis Cardinals and Cookie Lavagetto the Washington Senators and Minnesota Twins.

Celtics, Warriors Take Victories In Doubleheader

BOSTON (AP)—The fast-breaking Boston Celtics snapped Syracuse's seven-game winning streak Friday night, chilling the red-hot Nats 128-103 in the second half of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Philadelphia led all the way, topping Detroit 136-125 as Walt Chamberlain scored 53 points in the opener.

Syracuse had been setting a sizzling pace since the first of the year, capturing 10 of 11 decisions. But the Celtics left little doubt as to their over-all supremacy as they led at one time by 30 points.

Boston was in front at the half, 67-52. Then Frank Ramsey tallied 11 of the Celtics' next 13 points in a surge which led to an 86-56 margin midway of the third period.

The victory boosted Boston's home court record to 15-1. The defending champions have lost only to Los Angeles on the friendly Boston Garden floor.

Bill Russell emerged as the top home scorer with 24 points. Hal Greer topped the losers by tallying 23.

Alouettes To Quit Trying For Sandy

MONTREAL (AP)—M. E. (Ed) Workman says the Montreal Alouettes gave up hopes of signing quarterback Sandy Stephens because it was obvious "we are in a bidding war."

The president of the Eastern Football Conference club said Thursday he had learned the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League had offered Stephens, University of Minnesota's star of the Rose Bowl, a three-year, no-cut contract "in excess of $30,000 a year plus a $20,000 signing bonus."

Workman said "Stephens wants to make his career in the U.S. and to be the first Negro pro quarterback. I can't blame him."

Pappas Awarded $80 For Wreck

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Workman's Compensation Commission has awarded $80 to Milt Pappas, baseball pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles.

Bittorf Ford, Inc., and West American Insurance Co. also were ordered to pay $191 in medical bills.

Pappas worked for Bittorf as a car salesman and was driving a company car when involved in an accident Nov. 15.

The commission's order held the case for further consideration if Pappas' disability becomes permanent. Attorney Felix S. Jacob said he will file in a few months for permanent disability compensation for injuries to Pappas' throat, neck, left hand and knees.

Those serving for the past year are Rev. J. W. Boyd, Sicily Island, president; B. K. Miller, Sicily Island, vice president; and H. T. Cooper, Harrisonburg, secretary-treasurer.

"We hope that all the members of the unit and any person who are interested in the matter pertaining to wildlife in our parish will be present for this all important meeting," President Boyd said.

Red Schoendienst Says Mets Tough

By STEVE SNIDER
NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts: Red Schoendienst now a coach for the St. Louis Cardinals, thinks the New York Mets will be tough to beat in their home park when they come into the National League next season... "they've loaded up with some veteran hitters of the type that could get plenty of runs in the old Polo Grounds," says Red... "Like last year's Los Angeles Angels, they'll take a lot of beating on their home grounds."

McNeese State Announces Nine Football Games

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — McNeese State has scheduled nine football games with hopes of adding a 10th before the 1962 season gets underway.

A. L. Ratcliff, McNeese athletic director, says efforts are still being made to fill an Oct. 20 open date with a road game. The Cowboys are presently booked for five home dates and four away.

McNeese played nine games last season, winning seven and losing two. The Cowboys tied Southeastern Louisiana for the Gulf States Conference championship.

Eight of last season's opponents return to the 1962 slate, with the University of Tampa replacing Arlington State. McNeese and Arlington were unable to get together on dates for 1962, but both schools have indicated a desire to renew their series in the near future.

Ratcliff says a four - game home - and - home contract has been signed with Tampa, the first game of which will be played in Tampa on Oct. 6, 1962. McNeese and Tampa have met four times in the past, the last time in 1960.

McNeese will open its season on Oct. 15 against Pensacola Navy at Pensacola, Fla. The campaign will close on Nov. 17, at five major indoor track meets with the Cowboys hosting GSC rival Southwestern Louisiana.

Coach Les DeVall will launch the first phase of preparations for the 1962 season with spring training from Feb. 1 to March 17. Fall practice will start on Sept. 1. McNeese's 1962 schedule follows:

Raider's Coach Joins Kentucky

LUBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Resignation of Texas Tech's assistant football coach Matt Lair to join the University of Kentucky staff was announced Friday.

Lair will be assistant head coach at his alma mater under a former Wildcat teammate, Charlie Bradshaw. He expressed regret at leaving Texas Tech, saying that only the opportunity to help give his alma mater a winning football team prompted his decision.

Lair, who coached at Kentucky from 1953 through 1958, was at Texas A&M two seasons before joining Texas Tech last winter.

Both men are right up there in the rankings. The National Football Association rates Fernandez No. 1 and Tiger No. 2. Ring Magazine puts Tiger at the top and Fernandez in second place.

Nicknamed El Buey, the Ox, Fernandez is known for his big left hook but he has enough power in his right to put a man away. He has won 24 of his 33 fights by knockouts.

Last August, Fernandez lost in 15 rounds to Gene Fullmer for the NBA version of the middleweight title. Earlier in 1961, he knocked out Rory Calhoun in eight rounds and knocked out Marcel Pigou in two.

Tiger, who now lives in New York, is a narrow-waisted, broad-shouldered fighter who throws his punches in flurries as he wades into an opponent. His small hands were big enough to stop 13 of 57 opponents.

Last year, Tiger knocked out Gene Armstrong and Spider Webb and scored decisions over Hank Casey and Billy Pickett.

Fernandez has lost two fights by decision. Tiger has lost 12 by decision and has fought two draws.

Tiger has never been knocked out. Fernandez avenged his lone KO defeat against Rocky Kalingo. The fight will be carried on a national television network (ABC) and will start at 10 p.m., EST.

Whitey Ford, now the highest paid pitcher in Yankee history at $50,000 says he could win 17 games next season and still wind up with a bad year... "If I get as many starts as last year (39) and win only 17 it means I could lose as many as 22 and a 17-22 record wouldn't be a very good year"... Whitey was 25-4 last year and never yet has had a losing season.

Bob Davies, former pro basketball star at Rochester, says the National Basketball Association is wasting its time with an official ban on the zone defense... "Any team in the league could riddle the zone in the first half and that would be the end of it," says Bob.

Dick Kazmaier, ex - Princeton All-America footballer, recently became a father for the fifth time... no gridders yet—all girls.

You're getting old if you see Jill Shipstad starring in the current "Ice Follies" and remember her mom—Bess Ehrhardt—as the original dazzler of the troupe... West Virginia led the nation in one football statistic it doesn't like to brag about... The Mountaineers recovered only two opponents' fumbles all year and the second worst team in the standings had five.

Gary Player, golf's leading money winner in '61, is heading home for a five week stay in South Africa after competing in the Palm Springs classic Jan. 31-Feb. 4... He'll be back in plenty of time to defend his Masters' crown at Augusta, Ga... Professional Putters Association is putting up $46,000 in prize money for its nine tournament tour this year... National putting championship at Cincinnati in mid-summer carries the top pot of $10,000.

Bulova photometer will be used at five major indoor track meets this season but as usual will be used only to "photo" the finishes but not to time them... The electronic gadget usually records slower times than hand - held watches and while no one questions its accuracy all previous records have been with hand watches so why make it tougher on the runners?

He quitted briefly in 1958 to undergo an operation for removal of scar tissue over his eyebrows. Later in the year he came back under the management of Barney Ross, former lightweight and welterweight champion.

Ryff won nine of 10 bouts and moved back among the tip flight. Then in quick succession in 1959 he was knocked out by Paolo Rosi, outpointed by Ralph Dupas and knocked out in the first round by Battling Torres. The Torres debacle, at Los Angeles Sept. 17, 1959, prompted him to quit again. He had a 30-9 record.

A few months ago he started to train for another comeback under Gil Clancy, trainer and co-manager of former welterweight champion Emile Griffith.

"I advised him against a comeback when he first came to me," said Clancy Friday. "But when he insisted he would like to try I told him I would handle him under only one condition—that if I didn't think he was good enough he would forget the idea. He agreed."

"He looked so good I was amazed," said Clancy. "He was making some of the fighters in my stable look like novices. As a matter of fact I was about to arrange a fight for him today when I heard about the accident."

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Uncle Sam knows that there are many Soviet and Chinese citizens now residing in Cuba, most of them in the vicinity of Guantanamo Bay, our big base. They are passing off as technicians, laborers, and other harmless workers, but actually they add up to just one thing: an army . . .

While Louis Prima is appearing at a Las Vegas hotel with his new substitute for Keely Smith, Keely has taken to making nightly appearances for kicks — with Harry James' band at the Flamingo . . . The thousands of members of a famous key club might be interested in knowing that the management has applied for an open door license which would throw the portals open to John Q. Public.

David Merrick has added another musical to his agenda—"The Natives Are Restless," to be written by Arthur Laurents and Steve Sondheim. The setting isn't the Congo, it's New York . . . The radio networks are in a flap over a record made by Georgia Brown with Ted Heath and his band, "Roll Me Over in the Clover." It's a potential hit, based on an old Army song, and the station heads are afraid it's censorable . . . Funny Americanism: the Seattle World's Fair has hired a New York press agent to ballyhoo its attractions. Can't you see New Yorkers trekking out to Seattle to view a science pavilion?

THOSE WHO'VE SEEN the previews say the $4,000,000 color film, "Black Tights," is the most beautiful movie to hit the screen in years . . . Moira Shearer's fantastic costumes were designed by Yves Saint-Laurent . . . Jeff Chandler's widow, Marge, will break in her nightclub act in California next month . . . Chatty threesome at the Colony: Peter Lawford, Cornelia Otis Skinner and Tommy Phipps.

The Duke of Windsor's Canadian ranch, which has been up for sale, may be bought as the site of a boys' ranch . . . Elizabeth Seal, who hoped to do "A Shot in the Dark" in London next Spring, will have to wait until the Fall to star in the comedy. Elizabeth (in private life Mrs. Zack Mataloni) is expecting a visit from the stork early this summer . . . Jean Kerr is busy looking over actors for two—possibly three—national companies of "Mary, Mary." There's also a London production scheduled.

FRANK FAY'S ESTATE, most of which was left to charities, is being claimed by his (and Barbara Stanwyck's) adopted son, Dion. The hassle may go to court . . . Honey Jilly, wife of the 52nd St. bistro proprietor, put in the first bid for the late Grandma Benedict's town house. Legal eagles are studying the situation . . . Friends hope that Edie Adams will go through with her plans to star in the Broadway show "Venue at Large," with David Wayne as her vis-a-vis. They feel the excitement of work plus her many friends here will help her forget the Ernie Kovacs tragedy and their big empty house in Hollywood.

Julie Gibson, the curvaceous cutie at the Latin Quarter, is rumored on the verge of an aisle-walk with a wealthy nightclub owner . . . "Judgement at Nuremberg" has run into Japanese censorship because of the documentary World War II film clips inserted to show Nazi atrocities.

PHILOSOPHY FROM AUTHOR JOHN BRATBY: "We all hide from life in one way or another, in our professions, behind false faces, behind acts that disguise us . . . only facing life when it catches us off guard." . . . A West Coast astrologer's forecast for last Friday, Jan. 12, for Aquarians (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) noted: "It is very important you drive carefully or there can be real danger ahead." The late Ernie Kovacs was an Aquarian, born Jan. 23, 1919.

The newly-formed team of George Burns and Carol Channing plans many bookings here and abroad, a TV situation comedy series, and perhaps a local Palace Theatre engagement . . . Song-writer Bob Merrill calls for Carol Lawrence at the St. James stage door — in a limousine — while Robert Goulet, her real love, vacations in Puerto Rico . . . There'll be a new kite for kids on the market this Spring—a flying saucer kite with a wing and central disc that spin in the wind. One has already flown a mile high—a world's record.

FRITZ LOEWE'S NEXT VEHICLE will have a Japanese background and an Oriental cast. He's in Tokyo with Burgess Meredith, who will direct the show, gathering background material. They expect to have many Japanese instruments in the arrangements—perhaps 50 per cent. . . Obviously the best fights in the midtown area aren't staged at Madison Square Garden. The show biz crowd is agog over the latest donnybrook that took place in an East Side nightclub. Eyewitnesses report the action looked like a brawl in a John Wayne western.

Mike Nichols (of Nichols and May) has landed the enviable role of the father in Columbia's celluloid version of "Bye Bye Birdie."

Record Flight Included Area Airman Ezell

MINOT AFB, N. D. (Special) — Airman First Class Billy R. Ezell, whose wife is the former Virginia Prather of Newellton, is a crew member of the United States Air Force B-52H which recently set 11 speed and distance records in a non-stop flight circling half the world.

As an Air Force assistant crew chief, Ezell is one of the men responsible for the maintenance and repair of the giant Stratofortress which streaked from Okinawa to Spain without refueling. The record-shattering flight of 12,519 miles took only 21 hours and 52 minutes, following a modified great circle route over Tokyo, Seattle, Fort Worth, Washington D. C., and the Azores.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Ezell, Rural Route 1, Newellton, the airman and his wife have one child, John. Airman Ezell is permanently assigned to the Strategic Air Command's 4136th Strategic Wing here.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 5. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 1-20

MR. AND MRS. EVERETT LAWSON, extreme right, are greeted at the silver and green program tea given annually by Northeast State's chapter of Phi Beta, national professional speech and music fraternity. Receiving

Phi Beta Hosts Annual Program Tea In President's Home At Northeast

Northeast State's chapter of Phi Beta presented a varied collection of individual and choral readings and pantomime at Sunday afternoon's silver tea program in President George T. Walker's home. The occasion was the second annual event of this kind given by the collegiate chapter of the national professional speech and music fraternity.

Receiving were Dr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss Peggy Morgan, fraternity president; Mrs. Florence Z. Albritton, alumnae adviser; and Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, a patroness.

They stood in the reception room, where white poinsettia and greenery were emphasized in decorative notes. White also was reflected in a large arrangement of roses that graced a table in the entrance hall. In the music room a low table held a silver compote overflowing with grapes in pink, lavender and deep purple tones, which contrasted with a greenery display on a chest.

Preceding the program, refreshments were served in the dining room at the tea table which was centered with a pyramidal decor of white chrysanthemums with slender silver foliage to enhance the color theme. Silver candelabra on the buffet held avocado tapers to complete the effect.

Coffee and punch in silver containers were served at either end of the table by Miss Lallage Feazel and Miss Betsy McBride, a Phi Beta member. Silver trays holding assorted party foods were passed among the guests.

Presenting the program of entertainment was Miss Peggy Morgan, who introduced members, pledges, and guest speech students participating.

Individual performances included a reading, "Which One Shall It Be?" (Ethel Lynn Beers) by Miss Sara Womack of Bastrop; an original pantomime, "The Wall Flower," by Miss Gerry Peterson of Natchitoches; readings: "How Do I Love Thee," (Elizabeth Barrett Browning) by Miss Nike Poulos of Winnsboro; "The Wedding" (Fountain Inn Tribune) by Miss Betsy McBride of Davant.

Choral reading, directed by Phi Beta alumna Miss Jerilyn Gilstrap of Monroe, included the following numbers: "Who'll Buy?" (Dorothy D. Miles), "A Memory" (William Allingham), "Queen Anne's Lace" (Mary Newton), "Song" (Esther Mathews), "The

The prenuptial party was given by Mrs. Abe Dreyer in her home on Kenmore and an arrangement of blue stock and white peonies flanked by blue tapers in crystal holders graced the living room.

Miss Dickard chose to wear a trousseau model in white wool.

les of bridge included: Mrs. Fred Frazier, Mrs. Bernard May, Miss Magdalen Amman, Mrs. Allen Jones, Mrs. Bob Powell, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, Mrs. Henry Florsheim, Mrs. Anthony Lasuzzo, and Mrs. William Stewart.

Beta Sigma Phi Elects New Valentine Queen

Mrs. R. L. Bob DeMoss was elected Valentine Queen of Beta Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at a regular meeting held Thursday night, January 18 in St. Paul's Methodist Church.

She will be honored at the chapter's traditional Valentine sweetheart banquet scheduled for Saturday, February 10. The place will be announced.

During the business session, Mrs. Norman Smith, president, announced the names of two Beta Sigma Phi transfers to Monroe. They are Mrs. Harry Olmsted, transferred from Wichita, Kansas, and Mrs. Peggy Collins, from Pine Bluff, Arkansas.

Announcement was also made that the pledge ritual will be held for Mrs. B. J. Hammock at the next meeting on February 1.

Guest speaker for the evening was George Brian from the Speech Department at Northeast Louisiana State College. Mr. Brian was introduced by Mrs. Walter Hinckley and gave a talk on Drama.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. V. A. Hubka. An arrangement of spring flowers in coral tones was placed at one end of the serving table with the coffee service opposite.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

"Dear Mrs. Eldred:

"I have a boy of 6 who has been very high - strung since birth. He is the eldest of four. He is now going to school all day and doing well, though he has frequent crying spells or temper tantrums.

"I have been told by doctors that is is all right for him to let off energy in this way. They suggest planned activities to keep him busy. This is hard for me to do with my family, and the youngest a baby.

"He is perfectly normal with the other children, but just seems to reach a pitch and then cries. He can't eat until he calms down. He is often moody and depressed. Is this caused by something physical, or is he just naughty? Everyone says he will outgrow it. Could you suggest a book on the subject?"

Mrs. B.

MRS. ELDRED SAYS

Such behavior has an underlying cause. Having a tantrum or crying spell is his way of giving vent to his frustrations.

Being the eldest in the family he may have been thrust into a position of maturity beyond his years. He could be eager for the attention the younger children are getting. Because he is sensitive and immature, these feelings build up inside him and are released periodically in the form you describe.

Provide him with the kind of toys that will be an outlet for his energy and his temper. A pounding board or a small hammer and nails, a punching bag and a tether ball are excellent for this purpose. See that he gets enough outdoor exercise and has some companions of his own age.

If he could have a room of his own and be allowed privileges that the others do not have, it would be easier for him to accept his role in the family.

TALK TO HIM

Talk to him about his behavior. See if he can throw a little light on what upsets him. Teach him to express his emotions in words rather than unacceptable acts.

He needs to know that everyone feels much the same way at times. Tell him what you do when you are at your wit's end at the end of a busy day to keep from throwing the dishes out of the window. With your direction, he can make a game of going down and punching that bag until he feels better. Share your feeling with him, and teach him to laugh away some of his tensions.

He does need a way of releasing these pent-up emotions to prevent him becoming depressed or moody. If these measures do not improve his behavior, please take him to a Child Guidance clinic where he can be studied further. "The Emotional Problems of Children" by Harry Joseph, M. C. and Gordon Zern (Crown Publishing) can be read at your library or bought for further reference.

"Behavior of Which Parents Disapprove" is a 25-cent booklet which tells you how to end such behavior. If you would like to have it, send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and have been married for three months. My husband works nights and I don't know what to do with myself so I go out with my girl friends. When we go out we meet all sorts of boys. I met a boy who is 23 and also married. He says he loves me and now I am all mixed up about my feelings for my husband. I know I am no good for cheating on my husband, but I don't have the will - power to stop. My husband doesn't suspect anything I am afraid I married too young. Can you help me?

ALL MIXED UP: You need more help than I can give you in a letter. If you don't have a clergyman, find one. He will put you on the right track if you accept his guidance. In the meantime, drop those girl friends and forget that 23-year-old "boy" who is obviously as mixed up as you are.

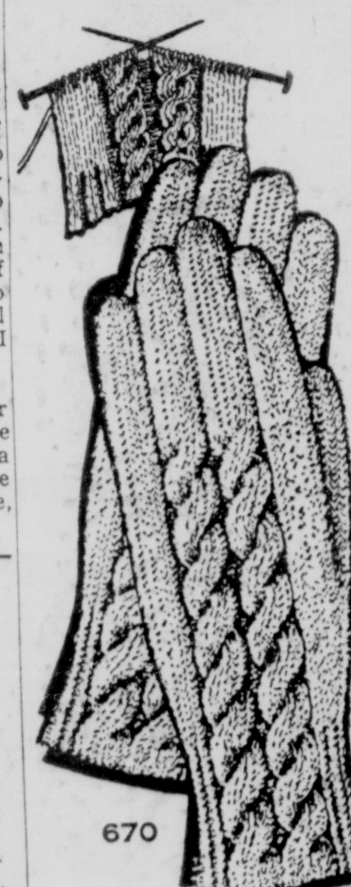

DEAR ABBY: I am going into the hospital in a few weeks for a serious operation. Here is my problem: My daughter - in - law is a registered nurse. She has not offered to go with me. I know if I asked her to she would put up a fuss to my son and tell everyone in town she was forced into it as she is very lazy and vicious. We have had experiences with her before. My other son said if she didn't have the decency to offer, he would hire a special nurse for me. What should I do?

CONFUSED: DEAR CONFUSED: Let your other son hire a special nurse for you. You wouldn't want a lazy, vicious nurse taking care of you just because it was free, would you?

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a young married couple who deliberately go out of their way to keep from having children because they "don't want to be bothered"? They are very frank in telling their friends that they enjoy their freedom and independence. When they are asked what they intend to do in old age, they reply, "We'll spend our money on clothes and travel." I would like to know if you think this couple is cold and selfish because my husband and I are that couple. We fail to see any point in having children. They are nothing but hard work and misery.

BEING CAREFUL: DEAR BEING: Please continue to be "careful." Children born of such a union start life with a heavy burden.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Several months ago a friend of mine was ill and unable to go to the track. He gave me some money to place for him. Four of his horses came in and I handed him $430. My own pockets were empty.

Last week I couldn't get to the track so I sent my money over to his place and asked him to place some bets for me. Three of my horses came in and I was pretty excited about it. I figured I'd won about $310.

That night my friend telephoned to say he was sorry he didn't get out to the track after all. He said he'd bring my original money over the next day.

My wife believes him. I think he's a liar and I'd like to break his neck. What would you do?—WASHY.

Dear Washy: Nothing. Next time go yourself or make a mind bet — then all you can lose is your mind.

Dear Ann Landers: What is wrong with a man who, when he sees a loose button on his shirt or coat gets mad and tears it off, often ripping the material with it. Last week he smashed a glass when he noticed a nick on the rim. He has torn apart zippers which wouldn't work. When he can't open a glass jar immediately I've seen him crack off the neck.

The last straw was yesterday when he had trouble closing the car door. In anger he slammed it with such force that the window shattered in a thousand pieces.

In the 20 years we've been married he's done so many things like this I could fill the newspaper. What's the reason for such behavior? — LONG SUFFERER

Dear Sufferer: Your husband is still operating at the three-year-old level — ripping, smashing, throwing and slamming things.

This is the technique children use when they are frustrated. It is also a mechanism for getting attention and attempting to push those around them.

Physicians say that people who unload their hostilities in this way seldom have ulcers — they give 'em.

Dear Ann Landers: Am I wrong or right about this? I promised my girl I'd accept your decision.

I celebrated my nineteenth birthday a few days ago. My girl friend gave me a surprise birthday party. It was a lot of fun. The kids bought gag gifts and some of them were pretty nice. My girl didn't give me a present of any kind. I thought this was sort of odd so I asked her about it. She said "I gave you the party. That was your present."

Her birthday is coming up soon. Do you think I should buy her a gift? The party was great but she still didn't buy me anything —Mr. 19.

Dear Mr. 19: Look, Bub, that party not only cost her some loot, but she put in time and energy. Let the moths out of your change purse and pop for a present.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TECHNICAL TROUBLES

U.S. Postpones Moon Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Technical troubles with the booster rocket Friday forced at least a month's postponement of an attempt to launch a Ranger 3 spacecraft to the moon to take closeup television pictures and land an instrument package.

The launching had been scheduled next Monday. But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that checkout of the Atlas-Agena B rocket disclosed the technical difficulty.

No new launching date was set, but NASA said it definitely would not be tried in the five-day favorable period in January. The next optimum period, when the moon is in a correct position to put the space craft on course, starts about Feb. 20.

Exact nature of the trouble was not disclosed, but it reportedly was in the Atlas first stage.

Another Atlas is on a launching pad here ready for the signal to boost astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit three times around the earth. Sources reported Glenn's Atlas does not have similar problems.

There was no immediate indication whether the postponement would have any effect on two other Ranger moon shots slated later this year. Only one launching pad, No. 13, at Cape Canaveral can accommodate Atlas-Agena rockets and several weeks are required between firings.

One and possibly two launchings to the vicinity of the planet Venus also are planned from No. 13 next summer.

When Ranger 3 is launched, the 727-pound vehicle is intended to reach the moon in 66 hours, relaying television pictures as it nears its target, then ejecting a 96-pound sphere with devices to measure moon quakes and meteor hits.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

COLD LESS HARMFUL THAN HEAT

Many elderly persons have told me they feel much better spending their winters in the south. They escape the hazards of ice and snow, along with the usual distress brought on by inclement weather. More and more are remaining south throughout the year because of the prevalence of air conditioning.

But our weather bureau has a different story to tell. No matter how cold it is, winter is less lethal than a heat wave. Extremely hot weather is associated with a higher death rate than extremely cold weather. According to Paul H. Kutschenreuter of the United States weather bureau, there is an insignificant increase in deaths during frigid spells, whereas hot weather fatalities often triple during a heat wave. The elderly are hit the hardest. To avoid misunderstanding, I must repeat — these statistics deal with extremes in weather, which are common in the north and south.

Clothing and heating give the northerner a break because they help the body compensate for the cold. We could hardly expect to survive zero weather in the nude or without adequate shelter. Thus it is easier to keep warm voluntarily on frigid days than to keep cool out of doors when the temperature soars.

But air conditioning may even the score in years to come. Dr. George E. Burch of New Orleans reported many of his heart patients improved immediately when placed in an air conditioned room during the heat of midsummer. Some were able to do without oxygen so long as the room was cool.

This demonstrates that the ailing heart finds it difficult to function properly during heat spells. It must work harder to play its role in aiding the cooling mechanisms of the body. This may explain the weatherman's statement about heat wave fatalities.

It will be interesting to see what happens when air conditioning is used as a therapy for older people with heart disease — not only in hospitals but at home. It should reduce the number of fatalities that take place in summer.

DRINKING AND SLEEPING

C. T. R. writes: Is my husband an alcoholic? He is 59 and all he does is drink and sleep all day. He takes two shots in the afternoon and sleeps four or five hours. After supper, he sleeps again, then goes out about 10 p.m. for another two or three shots and sleeps 10 hours. What's wrong with him?

REPLY

He's a somnolent alcoholic. Your husband needs psychiatric help because his sleep pattern is more bizarre than his drinking.

FOWL CALORIES

N. B. writes: Does turkey contain more calories than chicken?

REPLY

Yes. An average serving of turkey contains 262 calories; chicken, 194. We have a leaflet giving the approximate caloric values of foods. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this leaflet. Utilizing this information may help prevent the usual holiday weight gain that bothers so many of us.

HUNGRY AFTER EATING

J. C. writes: What makes me feel empty in the stomach an hour after I eat?

REPLY

Half empty stomach. You need foods that will "stick to your ribs" as the old-timers said. This includes fat and protein — turkey, stuffing and gravy.

COVERED HEAD

M. L. writes: During cold weather I like to sleep with the bedclothes over my head. Am I likely to suffocate?

REPLY

I doubt it. Enough oxygen usually is obtained through the bedding and the open end of the sheet and blanket.

Snow Equipment Gets 'Snowbound'

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Tulsa's new snow-fighting equipment is snowed in.

While city workmen battled snow and ice on streets here, Street Supt. Floyd Anderson said that four new automatic sand-spreaders bought recently had been found to be snowbound by 21 inches of snow in Kansas City, Mo.

Secret Army Stepping Up Terror Drive

ALGIERS (AP)—The right-wing Secret Army Organization stepped up its psychological offensive Friday with new tracts and personal mobilization orders. Terrorism a bloodshed continued as Algeria slid further down the road toward chaos.

Tracts distributed throughout the city ordered Europeans to remain in Algeria unless they obtain permission from the secret army to leave. All Europeans were asked to contact secret army area commanders for instructions. Hundreds received cards telling them to be ready for immediate callup.

A general strike of an hour and 15 minutes has been ordered in Algiers for Jan. 24, second anniversary of the 1960 settlers' uprising. There was no explanation for the somewhat odd duration of the strike.

Authorities say they expect it to paralyze the city, but one official added, "It will not change much anyway."

In the east Algerian seaport of Bone, a French infantry lieutenant shot and killed a teen-age European, and wounded another as the two boys put up propaganda posters for the secret army. The incident was expected to have serious repercussions among the European population of Bone.

Public transport was halted for the second day in Algiers, and thousands of Europeans and Moslems were prevented from going to work. Bus drivers demand military protection against terrorist attacks.

Six terrorist attacks killed five persons and wounded three others in Algiers during the day. Oran's toll was one dead and three wounded. Bus drivers, electricity workers and European high school pupils were on strike in Oran, demanding adequate security.

Several thousand young Europeans milled through the streets of the downtown area of Oran, chanting right-wing slogans. Several smoke and concussion grenades were hurled but no casualties were reported during the demonstration. Police clamped an early curfew on the heart of the city.

Official sources indicate secret contact between the French government and envoys of the Moslem nationalist rebels continues. The discussions reportedly center on the status of Algeria's major cities and the conditions of a cease-fire. Despite certain progress, officials say no agreement with the rebels in the immediate future should be expected.

119,620,467 lines of ROP color advertising were run in measured newspapers during the first 8 months of 1961. This represents an 8.4 million line, or 7.6 per cent gain over the corresponding period in 1960.

NEW CONGO TERROR

Mission, School Feared Overrun

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Sola Roman Catholic mission and girls' school in north Katanga apparently have been overrun by rebel Congolese troops, the United Nations reported Friday night. A spokesman said reconnaissance pilots brought back word that houses in the remote village were afire and the mission compound deserted.

All that the Ethiopian jet pilots could see, the spokesman added, were two soldiers running for the mission church and "two trucks, and presumably belonging to the army. Nothing more."

There was no hint when this newest rampage by mutinous troops began, or of what they had done with the residents of the mission station.

Automobile Tag Sales Still Run Behind Last Year

Sale of new 1962 automobile license plates is running "way behind last year because of the weather," according to Manager C. R. Tidwell of the Monroe registration office. Deadline for purchase of tags without penalty is Feb. 6, less than three weeks away.

Compared to the same period of a year ago, Tidwell said his office staff is handling a smaller number of applications each day. He attributes it to recent bad weather.

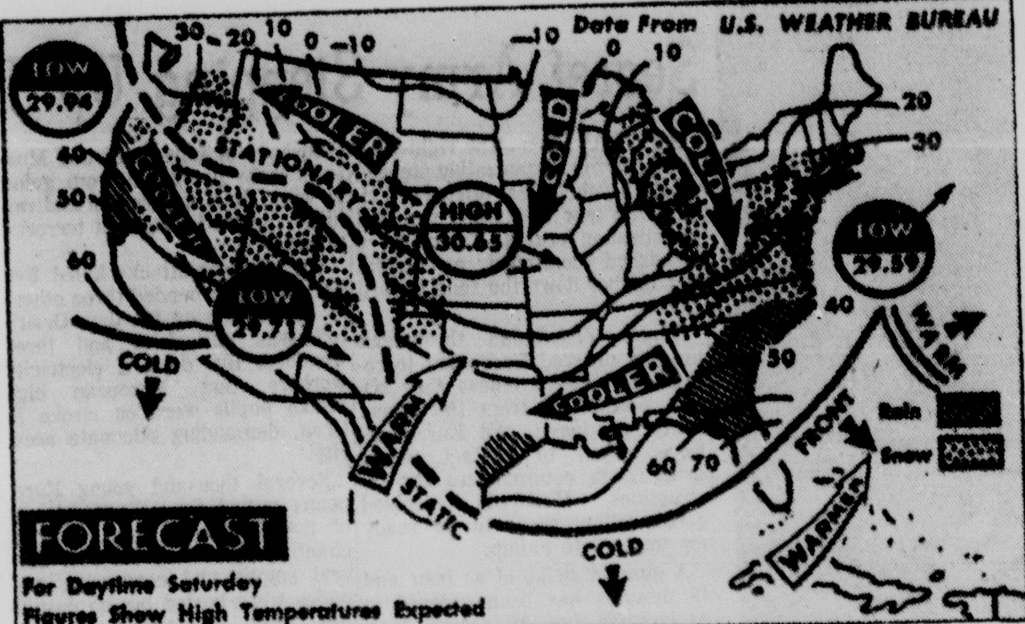

After Tuesday, Feb. 6, purchasers of plates will be required to pay an additional $1 penalty fee. Plates for passenger vehicles may be found at either the man office, 611 N. 3rd St., or the West Monroe branch in the Claiborne Street fire station.

The latter location will remain open only until the deadline. Tidwell urged motorists to come in now and avoid the traditional "last minute rush."

School Survey Discussion Set At Teacher Meet

School teachers of the fifth district will discuss a proposed survey of Louisiana schools by the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR) here Saturday.

Featured speaker will be H. C. Robinson, field secretary of the Louisiana Teachers' Association.

The PAR survey, has touched off a series of meetings among school people all over the state. Superintendent Shelby M. Jackson, along with the Fourth District Classroom Teachers, a branch of the LTA, is on record as against the survey.

The Saturday meeting will be held at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church on Grammont Street, across from city hall. It will be a regular monthly session for the classroom teachers.

The meeting, postponed last week because of bad weather is expected to be highlighted by the appearance and a discussion of the proposed survey by Robinson.

School principals and administrators have been invited to attend. The council is expected to seek permission from the State Board of Education to conduct a study of various high schools in Louisiana.

The survey, which would be made by educators, would be designed to determine why college students from some schools make better grades than those from other schools.

Neville High School and West Monroe High School would be included if the survey is conducted.

Winner Is Unable To Collect Prize

NEW YORK (UPI)—A bottle-capping contest sponsored by a soft drink concern and an airline doing business in South America has come to a peculiar halt, it was announced Friday.

The winner of the contest was in a singular position to collect thousands of bottle caps, but he can't take advantage of the prize, a jet airplane trip from his residence in Lima, Peru, to the United States.

The lucky winner, it turned out, was the soda jerk in the local penitentiary, where he still has four years to serve.

Plans Expansion

MANILA (UPI)—Fowler Hamilton, director of the U.S. Agency for International Development, said Friday the United States plans an expanded program of assistance to Asian countries which will lay more emphasis on economic development.

LOUISIANA MARKETS

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 40 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower Friday.

The market experienced a sharp dip during the forenoon as liquidation in October and December deliveries touched off stop-loss selling orders.

Prices dropped more than $1 a bale under the previous close but, after the selling dried up, prices made further gains near the close, paced by trade buying in near months.

The Census Bureau reported December domestic cotton consumption totaled 664,095 running bales which was better than trade expectations of 650,000 bales.

MIDDLING COTTON

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The average price of one inch spot cotton at 14 designated southern spot markets Friday was unchanged at 33.59 cents a pound; previous day 33.59; week ago 33.59; month ago 33.54; year ago 30.14; average for the past 30 market days 33.55; middling 15-16ths inch average 31.84. Sales 74,212.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A rallying volume of short covering reversed the general downward trend of the grain futures market Friday and left most contracts with moderate to substantial gains on the Board of Trade.

Corn, long the most consistent loser, posted the broadest advances. They were about a cent on all deliveries. Other gainers were limited to small fractions except December rye.

Wheat and new crop soybeans were left far behind. Continued liquidation beset wheat traders and the new crop months again slid to new season lows on losses of major fractions. New crop soybeans backed down about the same range.

At the close, wheat was 1/8-1/2 cent a bushel lower, March $2.03 3/4; corn 3/4-1 1/2 higher, March $1.06 1/2; oats 1/8-1/4 higher, March 68 1/2; rye 1/8-1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March $1.34-33 1/4; soybeans 3/4 higher to 1/2 lower, January $2.42 1/2-1/4.

Brokers said a little commercial buying at the start was the spark which the market needed to start the recovery. After the broad setbacks of the previous session, at least some moderate reversal could be expected, they said.

State Troopers Briefed On Tourist Aid Program

Some 42 members of state police Troop F were told here Friday that Louisiana's far-reaching tourist registration program, aimed at keeping "round-the-clock" contact with visiting motorists, will go into effect immediately.

The announcement was made at a morning "tourist clinic" held for all personnel under the sponsorship of the Louisiana Tourist Association. The clinic was the fourth of a series now being conducted in all 11 state police troops areas by the LLTA.

Speakers who outlined the LLTA's State Police tourist information and aid program included State Senator J. C. (Sonny) Gilbert, member of the joint Legislative Committee and director of the LLTA; State Police Major H. Lee Arledge of Baton Rouge; Major Inspector Milton Kavanaugh of Ruston; Troop Captain M. E. Kidd, Captain E. C. Lyles, who is liaison man between the force and the LLTA. Claude Morgan of Alexandria, LLTA public relations director, and Bill Welch, director of the State Tourist Bureau, coordinator of the program.

Under the registration system, believed to be the first of its kind in the nation, incoming motorists will register at state police stations, highway weighing stations and tourist information stations at entry points to the state. The tourist will be invited to list his name, make and model of car, destination, stopovers, and route of travel.

EASILY FOUND

"This way," Capt. Lyles pointed out, "the tourist can be located in a very short time in event of an emergency back home."

Sen. Gilbert explained this is one phase of the LLTA's tourist inducement program, but most important because the state police are the first to come in contact with the visitors to Louisiana. Known as Louisiana's "highway ambassadors" — each trooper's car will have a decal on the rear marking out "tourist aid."

Speakers who addressed the rare mass meeting of all troop personnel stressed that the tourist aid program will stand or fall to a large extent on the courtesy and helpfulness extended by the state police.

Troopers were told that they will be expected to have a list of vital information at their fingertips, including road conditions, places of interest, current festivals or other special events, best route to travel to any area in the state and other information vital to Louisiana's visitors.

Major Arledge pointed out that the program is a permanent part of state police work and will be administered by state police headquarters in Baton Rouge.

The next meeting will be held for Shreveport's Troop G, Jan. 23.

(Sonny) Gilbert, Sicily Island, member of the Joint Legislative Committee and a director of the Lovely Louisiana Tourist Association; Capt. E. C. Lyles, Baton Rouge, liaison officer for LLTA and state police; Major Inspector Milton Kavanaugh, Ruston; Capt. M. E. Kidd, head of Troop F; and Major Lee Arledge, Baton Rouge. (Staff photo by John I. Liquor Charge Levied In Area

CROSSETT (Special) — Katie E. G. Sparks and James Lee Ware, 65 year old West Crossett Negro, with a long list of liquor violation charges awaiting action in Circuit and the state Supreme Court, has been picked up with a carload of "untaxed liquor" in her car.

Ashley County deputy sheriff, E. G. Sparks and James Lee Ware, arrested the Ware woman with 60 bottles of wine, 56 bottles of whiskey, and seven cans of beer — all from Louisiana, in a dry county, and with no Arkansas tax bond, and is scheduled to appear in Crossett Justice of the Peace Court January 25.

Meantime, she is scheduled to appear in the Crossett J. P. Court this week on a charge filed in December for possession over the legal limit of liquor and selling in a dry county. In Hamburg's circuit court three cases have been piled up, passed by the court repeatedly pending an appeal to the State Supreme Court of another case.

Military Admits Fault In Korea

By SENATOR STROM THURMOND

(Editor's Note: The following account is from a series of articles written by Senator Thurmond for release prior to the "military muzzling" hearings slated to open Tuesday in Washington.)

No one gets any pleasure out of recalling the successes scored by the communists in Korea by brainwashing POWs and promoting "bugouts" by GIs who had not been sufficiently impressed with the nature of the enemy. American ideals, or why it was necessary to fight in that far-off, rough and cold terrain. We realize that we cannot, and must not, recriminate against those individuals who were so unfortunate as to succumb to the skillful techniques employed against them while they were prisoners in Korea. The fault lies not just with these individuals, but with our system of training, and indeed, with our society's relaxed emphasis on absolute values over a period of many years.

When in 1955 the studies of our Korean War experiences were completed and the Serviceman's Code of Conduct was promulgated, it was assumed that our defense establishment would follow through and insure the maintenance of a program of information and education which would remedy the glaring deficiencies of the Korean War. It is now clear that no such comprehensive and effective program has been maintained. Indeed, there are indications from numerous sources that those weaknesses still prevail, and in many cases, are even more pronounced than they were 8 to 11 years ago.

An Air Force officer who served on the Advisory Committee on Prisoners of War for the Secretary of Defense has expressed this concern over inaction on the committee's recommendations: "Once the documents were signed and proclaimed, they were filed away, then that was the end of them. I never thought it possible. The program that was to restore American stamina and teach our forces to understand the wiles of communism has been sabotaged."

There is no indication that any serious effort has been made to impress commanders at all levels with either the necessity for maintaining T&E programs, with the needs of service personnel for training in our system of government and the nature of the communist menace. There has been little, if any, emphasis on the most imperative need, a strong sense of individual responsibility.

My studies have revealed only slight efforts to acquaint troop commanders with the materials and devices available for use in conducting T&E programs. From a review of T&E materials made available, one cannot escape the conclusion that the Defense Department has been reticent in facing up to the problem of brainwashing techniques. In fact, it is easy to conclude that the word "brainwashing" is consciously avoided.

In a recent speech, Vice Admiral Robert B. Pirie gave good evidence on the job that needs to be done on T&E programs with these remarks: "Here are some statistics about the present day enlisted recruits revealed by a recent Marine Corps survey, a survey of the highly motivated type of young American who volunteers for the rigors of Marine Corps recruit training. Only half of the boys recruited can make a rational explanation of the meaning of the fourth of July. Only a pitiful small number of them can make an intelligent discrimination among the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the Declaration of Independence. In fact, only one out of three knows which came first, the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution. Only one in ten can give a reasonable comparison between the basic characteristics of concepts of our free system of government."

With Defense Department leadership giving the impression of discouraging efforts to alert the American public and troops on the many facets of the communist threat it is easy to understand why our T&E programs are mostly impotent and are rarely pursued by commanders with vigor and effectiveness. After all, the T&E programs are diluted by such actions of censorship and suppression and by the official reluctance to face up squarely to our proven vulnerability to brainwashing techniques and gullibility to communist propaganda.
